KERENSKY FORCE DEFEATED IN BATTLE AT PETROGRAD

CITIES WILL URGE JOINT SYSTEM ON LOCAL LINES

Attorney Greene Says Proposal by Berkeley, Alameda Is for Joint Non-Competitive Roads

UNPRODUCTIVE AREA COULD GET SERVICE

Neylan Objects to Any Attempt to Deliver Key Route "Into Arms of Southern Pacific"

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—In the cities of Berkeley and Alameda the utilization of the present system of the Southern Pacific Electric Railroad and the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway in a joint non-competitive system, were made this morning by Attorney C. D. M. Greene and A. F. St. Sure at the hearing of the transbay rate cases before the State Railroad Commission.

Greene, in making the statement for the two cities, explained to the commission the wish to make at this time an explanation of the attitude of the community in order that he might not be misunderstood in the line of cross-examination of witnesses which he intended to follow. He said:

"The cities of Berkeley and Alameda and the Berkeley and Alameda Chambers of Commerce will take the following position in regard to the pending transbay rate cases:

DUPLICATION IN SUBURBAN SYSTEM

"The present lines of the Southern Pacific and San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways were constructed before the passage of the public utility law, and at a time when competition was subject to little or no restraint. In consequence there is throughout the entire suburban system duplication of facilities without any of the ordinary benefits of competition. In addition, lines have been constructed by each of these companies in order to forestall competition which would in time eliminate unprofitable competition and duplication of facilities, retain all the present gross revenue, reduce operating expenses and overhead, and afford an adequate return upon the necessary investment.

"It will be our aim to show that one system could be constructed out of the present facilities of the two companies which would in time eliminate unprofitable competition and duplication of facilities, retain all the present gross revenue, reduce operating expenses and overhead, and afford an adequate return upon the necessary investment.

"We shall show that this composite equivalent for the present existing system would, if conducted under normal conditions, furnish unnecessary service to certain unproductive areas of the various cities. We shall show that under the composite system there would not be presented the curious anomaly of parallel competing lines serving identical territory.

"We shall show that there has been a most injudicious investment of money for these utilities with the sole purpose of meeting or forestalling competition which would in time eliminate unprofitable competition and duplication of facilities, retain all the present gross revenue, reduce operating expenses and overhead, and afford an adequate return upon the necessary investment.

CREED SAYS POLICY IS COMPETITION

Attorney W. E. Creed, representing the Key Route, was at once on his feet with an objection. He called the attention of the commission to the fact that at the time the Key Route began its competitive service it was a well-defined public policy in California to encourage competition in transportation. Attorney C. W.

Plans Revealed For Dynamiting Docks at Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 13.—Plans to dynamite the docks of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company were revealed today during the progress of police trials before Police Commissioner Couzens. The docks were to have been blown up on the night of November 2.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Nov. 13.

KILLING OF "DEFECTIVES" IS CONDONED

When Mrs. Pauline Hodzama in her Chicago tenement flat administers the "death potion" to her suffering little two-year-old son which within a few weeks will close his eyes forever in painless sleep, mother hearts in Oakland will pulse with understanding and sympathy for her and approval of her course. Little Paul has never been well. It was his fate to be born in a poor home in a great city. The days brought him closer and closer to great pain and a sure imbecility. He was deeply beloved. Dr. Harry Haiseldson in his zeal for the perfection of his art, suffering from the healthy normal life of boyhood, bowed submission.

GIVES FATAL POTIONS TO HER LITTLE BOY

Day by day the young mother pours from the bottle the medicine which is sure death to her baby. She does it with tears and heartache. She does it to save tears and heartache for the man-child whom she adores. In the meanwhile, Dr. Haiseldson is threatened with prosecution unless he can prove the legality of his action if the baby dies. In the meanwhile, Dr. Haiseldson reiterates that in providing "God-given drugs" he is trying merely to alleviate and prevent some of the suffering of the world.

"The people and the doctors have not outgrown the idea that human life is sacred and yet human life is the cheapest of all things. We allow human beings to live where we would not permit cattle," he declares.

CALLS DOCTOR BRAVE AND RACE BENEFACTOR

"Dr. Haiseldson is a brave man who is doing a splendid thing for the race," declared Mrs. J. George Scott, president of the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs, this morning in discussing the issue. "Were it my child I would hope and pray every day that it might die. But I do not think that I could help answer my own prayers. My head would say that it would be right for me to permit the child to die. My heart would say that it was impossible. When a baby is born a subnormal it seems best that it not be permitted to live. After a child has grown into one's heart and life with the months or years, it strikes one as being something like murder to deliberately kill it, and yet it is to be condoned. Were it my child I should not want it to live. But I could not administer the drug myself, nor know it was being done. However, Dr. Haiseldson is standing up against a great evil, and he is doing something which he thinks right and which mothers must believe also to be right when they look at their own children."

Mrs. C. E. Wilson, a past president of Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs and a wife of a physician, in referring to the Chicago history-making incident, says: "To me this is such a serious thing I don't believe that I would feel as bad to see a child put out of misery and sorrow as I would to see it grow up into imbecility and suffering. I think maybe even I might persuade myself for my child's sake were it like the Hodzama baby, to administer the drug and that never afterward would I have regrets. What sadder thing in the world is there to see than a child who

GUARD BODY OF QUEEN RECAPTURED UNTIL WILL SETTLED

Remains of Liliuokalani Are Seized by Hawaiian National Guard Because of Threats

RECENT DISPOSAL OF WEALTH ALLEGED

John F. Colburn, Declaring He Was Appointed Executor, Demands Control of the Corpse

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 13.—National Guard troops of Hawaii have taken charge of the body of former Queen Liliuokalani, who died last Sunday, because of a threatened will contest.

Control of the body was demanded by John F. Colburn. He asserted that the former monarch, in a will dated August 29, 1917, appointed him executor of the estate.

At that time she made many changes, he alleges, in the disposition of the property. Colburn, former manager of the Kapiolani estate, said the will had been secretly signed. Trustees of the late queen's estate were inclined to question the authenticity of the alleged will, pointing out that Liliuokalani had been seriously ill at the time Colburn claims she signed the document.

Attorneys for Colburn said the alleged new will would have an important bearing on the suit of the Kapiolani trustees, who are contesting the Liliuokalani trust deed.

Following a military conference tonight it was decided that funeral arrangements would be turned over to Hawaiian trustees, who agreed that the body should lie in state tomorrow with formal walling according to the ancient Hawaiian funeral customs.

The funeral had been arranged to take place next Sunday. Meanwhile the body lies under guard in state in the Kawaiahao church until next Saturday, when it will be removed to the throne room of the palace, where the funeral services will be held.

As the last funeral of a native monarch in Hawaii, all the pomp of the old days are planned to be revived and ancient customs observed. All entertainments prepared for the visiting Congressional delegation have been abandoned. The party, now on exception of Senator Ashurst, sailed from Honolulu Saturday for Hilo, Island of Hawaii, to visit the burning crater of Kilauea.

In recent weeks Queen Liliuokalani had shown striking devotion for the United States. She subscribed liberally for the Red Cross fund and the Liberty loan. When news first came that a state of war had been declared she hoisted the Stars and Stripes over her residence in Washington place, advising her former subjects to support the government of the United States to the fullest.

TO LIST ENEMIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Wilson is expected to issue a proclamation soon requiring every alien enemy within the United States to register as a step toward ridding the country of spies and saboteurs.

The government has virtually decided that this procedure is the only way open for sifting from the million Germans in the United States the few who are believed to be causing fires in munition plants, grain elevators and warehouses and promoting propaganda injurious to America's prosecution of the war.

ITALIANS RECAPTURE GERMAN POSITIONS

Northeastern Corner of Italy Is Overrun by Invading Army; Railroad Town Is Captured

BIG BATTLE OF WAR NOW IN FULL BLAST

Reinforcements of French and British Guns and Men Aids in Holding Line Against Assault

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. The Italian army has stiffened its defense against the invading Germans and carried out a number of brilliant counter-attacks that indicate the general retreat is about to stop, official Rome cables today stated.

Veteran Italian infantry brigades reconquered German positions around Gallio in sanguinary hand-to-hand combat. The town was captured as well as the surrounding heights. This section is the center of communications with the Alpine del Setto and enemy positions which menace the Italian flank. The Italian brigades took Gallio in the face of tremendous German artillery fire. Losses were heavy on both sides.

Between the Tagliamento and Lomazzo lines a large detachment of Italian troops broke through an encircling body of Germans by a furious bayonet assault.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Fonzo and Mont Longara have been taken by the Austro-German troops invading Northern Italy, says the official statement issued today by the German war office.

GENEVA, Nov. 13.—Austro-German forces in Northern Italy have entered Feltre, according to information reaching this city today.

Feltre is an important railroad town in the Piave river sector, lying about a mile and a half west of that town. It is on the branch railway that runs southwestward from Belluno, joining the main line at Treviso.

ZURICH, Nov. 13.—Three-fourths of the Venetian plains in Northern Italy are now dominated by the Austro-German armies, said a press despatch from Vienna today.

The Venetian plain comprises the northeastern corner of Italy, north of Venice and east of Verona.

BATTLE OF PIAVE WILL BE FATEFUL

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The battle of the Piave river—an engagement which may prove one of the most important in the history of mankind—is today in full blast.

The actions around Longare and Belluno and in the mountains north of the Piave river and east of the Sogana valley may be regarded as preliminary skirmishes leading up to the great struggle.

Handful of Military Cadets Wage Desperate Battle for Kerensky

Bloody Fight Rages in Streets of Petrograd, Where Machine Guns Dent Sides of Armored Car; Many Are Slain YOUTH IN VALIANT STRUGGLE

PETROGRAD, Nov. 13.—Petrograd was still in the hands of the Bolshevik Monday after desperate street battles on Sunday, in which a handful of brave military cadets was killed or captured by Bolshevik forces upon whom the cadets inflicted considerable losses. There were conflicting reports from Moscow and other large cities. The Bolsheviks reported officially that Moscow was still in their hands, although a telegram to the committee of public safety on Sunday said that the Kerensky adherents there had driven the Bolsheviks into the Kremlin, where they were besieged.

Among the reports heard was one indicating that Lenin and Trotsky were aboard the cruiser Aurora directing operations from that place of safety. The scenes on the streets yesterday afternoon were similar to those of last Thursday, when the people quietly transacted their business as though no bullets had disturbed them.

At the corner of the Grand Morskai and the Gorokovskai, near the telephone exchange, during the long march through the streets toward the Warsaw station. Throughout Saturday night and Sunday the whereabouts of Kerensky's relieving army was the enquiring subject. Monday no news of it had been received. Bolshevik troops had been rushed to all the approaches to the city and appeals had been made to the factory workers to go to the suburbs to dig trenches or prepare barricades. The Nikolaevskoe-Selo and Baltic railway stations became armed camps.

ARMORED CAR CAUGHT, OCCUPANTS SLAIN

An armored car manned by military cadets and stationed in the square around the Cathedral of St. Isaac cleared the streets there with a fusillade in reply to occasional firing from Bolshevik infantrymen hiding behind the marble columns in front of the cathedral. The bodies lay in the street for half an hour until hospital nurses obtained permission to remove them.

At one moment machine gun bullets were whizzing through the air and the people doffed their hats as a funeral cortege with four white horses drawing a white-canopied hearse, and black-garbed mourners following on foot crossed the Morskai, directly in the line of fire.

CADETS IN WIRE EXCHANGE SURRENDER

Bullets splattered against the facades of the buildings and one military cadet fell in a crumpled heap across the street from the Associated Press office. Another fell with a shot through the head as he was warning the onlookers to seek safer quarters.

Two other clashes between the military cadets and the Bolsheviks occurred Sunday at the Fontanka bridge, where a military cadet was captured and the inmates killed, and at Vladimirskiy, of the military cadet shoot, which was bombarded and captured only after a brave struggle. The military cadets, who correspond to the West Point cadets in America, were the only military forces in Petrograd loyal to Premier Kerensky.

BOLSHEVIKI CALM UNTIL SATURDAY

Until Saturday afternoon, from surface indications, things were going fairly smooth for the Bolsheviks. Rumors of the approach of Kerensky with an armed force were circulated Friday night but received little credence. As a precautionary measure rails were torn up from the Petrograd-Gatchina railway line and a force of sailors was sent out to the Baltic Sea.

PREMIER IS PURSUED BY VICTORIOUS BOLSHEVIKI

Attempts Launched by Loyal Cadets in Behalf of Deposed Dictator Meet With Success

CONFLICTING REPORTS ON FIGHT IN CAPITAL

Conditional Surrender Offer of Bolsheviks Refused and Their Defeat of Foe Soon Follows

Out of a mass of conflicting reports today from Petrograd it was possible only to determine beyond question that a desperate battle was waged in that city throughout Monday between the forces of the newest revolution under Trotsky and Lenin and those of the deposed premier, Kerensky and General Korniloff. Last night's wires from the Russian capital seemed to indicate a victory for Kerensky. This afternoon, however, the Bolshevik commander-in-chief, Mauraviev, published an official communique that Kerensky and Korniloff had been decisively defeated near Tsarskoe-Selo and they were being pursued with their arrest as the object.

From this report it is considered likely that the struggle within the capital yesterday was merely that which was engineered by the military cadets and women soldiers' organizations, still loyal to Kerensky, and a few local Cossack organizations not yet driven from the city. It is not believed that Kerensky entered the capital at all, but was met without the city at Tsarskoe-Selo and there defeated.

Both London and Washington expect more definite news of the situation by night. The latter has word through Ambassador Francis at Petrograd that bloody fighting has proceeded at Moscow, but that all Americans there are safe.

Fierce Fight Is Reported at Moscow

PETROGRAD, Nov. 13.—The American consul general at Moscow telegraphing to Ambassador Francis under Sunday's date, confirms reports of fighting there between the Bolsheviks and the provisional government forces. The consul general says:

"It seems the government troops are winning. John F. Stevens is here but cannot get in touch with him as consulate is center of fighting. All Americans safe. Rumor Cossacks already arrived."

Ambassador Francis, who says he will remain here to look after the interests of his government and the safety of American citizens, has received no officers from the Bolshevik government or any word from Washington since November 3.

As chairman of the American Railway Commission, Stevens was in Moscow to act as special observer to the government in connection with the operation of the Russian railways.

The employees of the official Russian Telegraph Agency have gone on strike. They refuse to transmit Bolshevik propaganda.

ALLIES MAKE HEAVY GAINS DURING WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The effect of Germany's "political offensives" against Russia and Italy upon the Italian front has been recognized in Secretary Baker's weekly review of military operations, issued today by the War Department.

"The close inter-relationship of events on all fronts cannot too frequently be emphasized," says the review. "The political situation in Russia made it possible for Germany to detach important contingents in the east which were speedily transported to the Italian front."

"It is not unlikely that before initiating their powerful drive against the Italian front, the enemy made painstaking and systematic attempts to undermine the morale of the Italian troops, with a view to breaking down their resisting power."

"This carefully planned political offensive, conducted preparatory to their military offensive, reveals clearly the present methods of the Germans."

"Surveying the broader aspects of the European situation today, we find that the enemy in the east is continuing his efforts to political propaganda. Along the Italian sector he has recently made desperate attempts to secure a decision by means of a political-military drive. In the west, while attempting to sap the fighting strength of the belligerent peoples, the enemy has now been compelled to act on the defensive, and is being slowly but surely driven back."

"It should be borne in mind, however, that the further disintegration of the Russian forces will mean that the Germans will be able to thin out their line along this front, which will thus automatically contribute to the stiffening of their defense in the west, as well as render added contingents to take part in the engagements now proceeding in Italy."

"With Passchendaele securely in British hands, the stage of the operations begun during the last week of September have been brought to a successful conclusion. "The French counterpart of the British success took place north of the Aisne. Here the retreat of the enemy anticipated last week was carried out. The pressure of the French offensive, which has grown slowly and methodically in volume and intensity, reached a climax when by the recent French advance in this sector they were enabled to enfilade the German lines along the crest of the Chemin des Dames."

CAFETERIAS AT SCHOOLS ARE TO ECONOMIZE

The Oakland school cafeterias are going to economize, and the first move will be by Hooverizing in butter. No longer will the student be given a pat of butter with his bread—the butter will be spread by a master hand at Hooverizing, for economy is to be the watchword.

This is the notice received by Oakland manufacturers in connection with a call for bids from School Purchasing Agent Harry W. Bridgeman.

"Want bids on all kinds of dishes except butter dishes," the school department is also calling on local factory men and jobbers to furnish bids on coffee pots, kitchen ware, napkins, table cloths, wax paper, library supplies, chairs, glue and acetone. The dishes are to be used in domestic science work as well as in school cafeterias.

CITIES TO URGE JOINT CAR LINES

Durbrow also remarked that it was the policy of the Railroad Commission to encourage competition.

"Where did you get that idea?" asked President Thelen. "What basis have you for making that statement?"

"From things which I have heard recently in regard to decisions of the commission affecting parallel lines in Southern California," replied Durbrow.

"That merely shows, Mr. Durbrow, the weakness of hearsay evidence," said Thelen. "There is no basis for your statement."

Attorney John F. Neylan interposed his objection as representative of the East Oakland Protective Association, of any attempt to "deliver the Key Route into the arms of the Southern Pacific."

"If it is feasible," he said, "to work out a common system without favoring the Southern Pacific, I think there would be no objection, but I wish to inform the commission that there is a large settlement in Oakland in favor of public ownership."

Attorney H. M. Wade, representing the City of Oakland, said that his client would not be in favor of any such combination. He said he believed, however, that the public should not be forced to pay through increased rates for any unfortunate investment which the Key Route may have made in building a competitive line.

SPARRING OCCURS BETWEEN ATTORNEYS

Considerable sparring then occurred between Attorney Creed, Durbrow, Greene and Neylan over the situation, but no definite conclusion was reached. In the course of this debate Durbrow said: "The Southern Pacific has informed the city of Berkeley that it is willing at any time to remove certain service when it is interrupted with this question: "Are you also willing to use tracks jointly with the Key Route?"

Durbrow replied that he could not speak with authority on that point. "If there was an agreement for joint use," asked Thelen, "and some of your tracks were found to be useless, would you be willing to remove them, would you not?"

"Yes, certainly, scrap them," said Durbrow.

Attorney Creed refused to admit that the Key Route would look with favor upon any proposal for a joint system.

Aside from this incident the morning session of the hearing was taken up with further direct testimony by Augustus S. Kibbe, valuation expert for the Key Route, and his cross-examination by Greene. Kibbe gave further figures on valuation and reproduction cost. The reproduction cost of the Key division, less depreciation, was placed by him at $1,642,000 and for the Tracton division $964,000. His total allowance for annual depreciation on the Key division was $247,413 and for the Tracton division $386,422.

Kibbe presented a graphic chart showing that the Key Route gives larger returns in transportation for the money paid than any other suburban railroad, not excepting the Southern Pacific. He showed that the average service of the Key Route is 9.9-10 miles for a $3 commutation rate.

For this same system the Southern Pacific charges from $3 to $3.50, the railroads of the Los Angeles district from $4.50 to $5.25, the Chicago district, $4.75 to $5.75, and in the New York district from $5.25 to $7.

At the time the session closed this morning Attorney Greene was cross-examining Kibbe in an endeavor to find out why the new rock-filled moles had not been built narrower than saving expense. Kibbe declared that a fill could have been made just wide enough for two tracks, but that it would not have been safe.

The matter of amortization of the cost of the pie over the period of the fifty-year franchise, which was discussed yesterday afternoon, came up again and occupied some ten or fifteen minutes. The commission is desirous to arrive at a determination of whether or not a franchise shall be considered as capital invested or as a payment to be amortized.

KERENSKY LOSES IN BIG BATTLE

"Long live revolutionary, democratic, socialist Russia!" (Signed) TROTSKY.

"In the name of the people of the commissaries."

A report that loyal troops had occupied the Smolny Institute, the headquarters of the Bolsheviks, is denied in a despatch by the Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail dated Sunday noon. On the contrary, he says, the place is being prepared to withstand a siege.

Several hundred women soldiers who had been protecting the winter palace, according to a Petrograd despatch to the Daily Telegraph, were arrested by the Bolsheviks and handed over to the various barracks.

The correspondent of the Telegraph on Sunday the winter palace, which had been in the hands of the Bolsheviks since Thursday. He said the rooms formerly occupied by the government were ankle deep with stationery, newspapers and correspondence. Every compartment had been forced open and emptied. Pictures were slashed, glass doors and cabinets smashed, chair seats ripped.

Everything too cumbersome to remove had been damaged wantonly. Almost every room in the cabinet of the former emperor had been wrecked. Fortunately, the correspondent adds, the government had stored all the art treasures. The cellars also were so protected as to be safeguarded.

But little information trickled through today as to conditions in Russia elsewhere than Petrograd, Moscow and the big cities. At Odessa the population was said to be bewildered at the rapid changes. A committee was at first formed to cooperate with the Bolshevik government, but the peasants' conference promptly passed a resolution opposing all control.

On the south Caucasus front army committee also adopted resolutions opposing the Bolsheviks.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 13.—Telegrams from Finland announce the arrival of Premier Kerensky in Petrograd with his troops. Finnish newspapers declare unreservedly that the Bolsheviks already have been overthrown.

Another message says Premier Kerensky has been removed to Moscow. General Korniloff has entered Petrograd, where all the troops now except the sailors went over to his side, according to a Petrograd despatch to the Social Demokraten, under Monday's date.

"Gate Left Unguarded." George Warns of 'Too Late' War Policy

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Indications of an approaching bitter attack on David Lloyd George as premier because of what is termed his "brutally frank" speech in Paris yesterday became evident today.

Former Premier Asquith, plainly greatly excited, demanded in Commons this afternoon when the premier would make a statement explaining his "very grave" speech.

This is the first time Asquith has taken a position apparently hostile or critical of Lloyd George since Asquith was retired as premier.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—A single front, a single army, a single nation—that is the program requisite for future victory, said Premier Painleve at a luncheon in honor of David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, who has just returned from the Italian war zone, and Signor Baroni, Italian minister of education.

"If, after forty months of war, after all the lessons the war has taught us, the allies were not capable of that sacred international union, then, in spite of their sacrifices, they would not be worthy of victory," added Painleve.

THE REASONS.
Lloyd George developed at considerable length the reasons for not creating a war council earlier. The allies had committed a great fault, he said, in not adequately assisting Serbia in holding her lines, with the result that the central empire broke the blockade and procured men and supplies from the east, without which Germany doubtless would have been unable to maintain the forces of her armies.

"Why was this unbelievable fault committed?" asked the premier. The reply is simple. It was because no one in particular was charged with guiding the Balkan gate. The unique front had not become a reality. France and England were absorbed by other problems in other regions. Italy thought only of the Carso. Russia was mounting guard over a frontier of a thousand miles, and even without that she could not have passed through to have helped Serbia, because Rumania was neutral.

WERE TOO LATE.
"It is true that we sent troops to Saloniki to succor Serbia, but, as always, they were sent too late. Half the men who fell in the vain effort to pierce the western front in September that year would have saved Serbia, saved the Balkans and completed the blockade of Germany."

After reviewing the Italian campaign, the premier said: "As far as I am concerned, I had arrived at the conclusion that if nothing was changed I could no longer accept the responsibility for the direction of a war condemned to disaster from lack of unity. Italy's misfortune may still save the alliance, because without it I do not think that even today we would have created a veritable su-council."

"The war has been prolonged by

One is rather a detriment and in most cases is even inclined to accentuate the skid and throw the car out of balance.

Is it any wonder the differential looks pained and worried when inexperienced motorists insist upon working it overtime?

Do you know the purpose of the differential and how it operates?

Without it no motor car would be able to turn a corner evenly and smoothly.

Power is supposed to be transmitted evenly to both driving wheels. When either of these wheels meets with resistance, the ever watchful differential transmits that power to the other where there is less resistance.

Now, what is the result when a chain is used on only one wheel?

A certain amount of resistance or gripping. So the power naturally goes to the other wheel and as this has no gripping surface, it spins.

The specific purpose of the chain is thwarted, worse still, it has a natural tendency to accentuate the skid.

Furthermore, can't you see this spinning will unnecessarily wear the tire and throw your whole car out of alignment?

Suppose one of your brake rods smashed and only one remained effective. What would happen when you applied the one brake?

Your car would swerve, of course. An added uneven strain would be thrown upon the whole mechanism, doing probably irreparable damage.

The conditions are similar.

The necessity for brakes for both wheels and chains for both wheels is obvious and clearly defined.

If one chain would do the work, why use more? But motorists and mechanics who are well posted gaze with pity at the man who foolishly drives with only one chain when two are absolutely necessary on the rear wheels and two on the front wheels are an added precaution.

WASH THE KIDNEYS!

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys every five minutes. This is why the kidneys play such an important role in health and disease. By some mysterious process the kidney selects what ought to come out of the blood and takes it out. If the kidneys are not good-workmen and become congested—poisons accumulate and we suffer from backache, headache, lumbago, rheumatism or gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment, and often gets sore and sleep is disturbed at night. So it is that Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., advises "Washing the Kidneys," by drinking six to eight glasses of water between meals and then if you want to take a harmless medicine that will clear the channels and cure the annoying symptoms, go to your nearest druggist and obtain Anuric (double strength). This "Anuric," which is so many times more potent than lithium, will drive out the uric acid poisons and bathe the kidneys and channels in a soothing liquid. If you desire, write for free medical advice and send sample of water for free examination. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is a most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all.

For Weak Kidneys

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that, so many people claim, it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcels post, Address Dr. Kilmor & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., and enclose ten cents. Also mention the Oakland Daily Tribune. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

BELGIUM NEEDY TO GET CLOTHES

The first of Alameda county's donations toward the five tons of warm clothing which has been allotted as its share of the 400 tons which Belgium needs before Christmas, began to arrive at the First Congregational church this morning. While the people of the desperate little country are being provided with food, they are in great need of garments to protect them against the approaching winter. Those within the steel ring are destitute of even scant coverings. The German authorities who up to this time have forbidden clothing to be shipped within the ring, have granted permission to Herbert Hoover to take in 400 tons. The shipment leaves New York early in December.

California has been allotted 35 tons of clothing, of which Alameda county is to contribute 5 tons. The following amounts: Oakland, 2 tons; Berkeley, 2 tons; Alameda, 1 ton; San Francisco, 5 tons. Oakland's share amounts to something like 20 packing cases. From the cantonments where the drafted army is located it is expected that 100,000 men's garments will be collected. For this reason the local Belgium committees are appealing only for women's and children's clothing. Contributors are asked to send clean garments.

Throughout this week parcels of clothing may be left at the First Congregational church at Twelfth and Clay streets. Monday and Tuesday the Oakland committee will fill the big boxes, which will arrive in New York by December 1 for shipment. Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Potter, Miss Mary Ann, Miss Florence Locke, Mrs. Walter Starr, Mrs. Walton Moore, Miss Louise de Fremery, Miss Ethel Moore, Miss Anna Florence Brown, and Mrs. Edwin Garthwaite are included in the personnel of the executive board which is directing the local collection of clothing.

BUILDING LAWS
REVISION PLANNED

RED CROSS DANCE

With the date of the annual ball to be given under the auspices of the Widows and Orphans Aid Association of the police department, only nine days away the ticket sale has already exceeded expectations, according to the report of the committee in charge of distribution of the pasted-up notices. The ages and boxes are in demand and only a few more remain. Inspector Charles E. McCarthy, chairman of the entertainment committee, today announces several features which will intersperse the dance program. The famous Oakland Police Band, led by John Mulhern, second tenor; Captain Charles Bock, baritone; and Richard Feeley, basso, will render several selections contributed by different members of the department and prepared for this occasion. "The department is Captain Harry Green's new war song, 'Flourish Thru to Berlin,' will be sung for the first time on any stage by the quartette. Inspector James Drew will give the monologue, 'Lights and Shades of the Police Courts,' for the benefit of the audience.

SEEK STATE TAX

A petition for the determination of inheritance tax due the state from the estate of the late A. Penney, deceased in 1905, was filed today in the Superior Court by State Controller John S. Chambers against Mrs. Virginia E. Penney, widow, to whom the estate transferred certain property in anticipation of death. The application sets out that the transfer was without consideration.

The property transferred consisted of 57 shares of stock of the firm of T. A. Penney, and three parcels of real estate, one at Webster and Thirteenth streets, one at Channing Way and Coliseum avenue and one at Oxford street and Hearst avenue. The value of the property in question is not given.

A petition to determine inheritance tax is also filed against Mary A. Brown, widow of the late Albert Brown, founder of the Brown Undertaking Company.

OAKLAND LODGE TO HONOR MOSES SOHN

Elaborate preparations are being made by members of Oakland Lodge of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith for the reception and entertainment of the distinguished Dr. N. Moses Sohn, grand president of District No. 4 of the order, who is to visit Oakland next Tuesday. Grand President and Mrs. Moses Sohn are on a tour of the district, this being his first official visit to the Oakland lodge since he was elected to the office. Moses Sohn's home is in Portland.

The reception will consist of a luncheon at the Hotel Oakland to Moses Sohn, attended by 200 or more members of the order. At the same hour Mrs. Moses Sohn will be entertained at luncheon attended by wives of the members of the Oakland lodge, as guests at the home of Mrs. Morris Schneider, 348 Grand avenue.

In the evening there will be an initiation, the work being put on by the grand lodge of San Francisco. This will be followed by an informal banquet at the Hotel Oakland, Twenty-eighth and Webster streets.

Mrs. Moses Sohn will be the guest of honor during the evening at a theater party given by the wives of members of the lodge, at the Oakland Orpheum.

The committee in charge of the reception consists of Morris Schneider, Mandel Goldwater and Bernard Silverstein.

Moses Sohn is known in Oakland, having been one of the prominent visitors with the Portland Ad Club during the convention in Oakland. Since he became president of the district embracing the Western States he has initiated an expansion of work of the order, and has laid emphasis on the great work undertaken by the Jews of the United States in behalf of their co-religionists who are sufferers in the war zones of Europe. Moses Sohn is a young man only 34 years old, and is full of enthusiasm and energy to attack the problems presented to his race and the organization he heads. He is an attorney, a prominent worker in the juvenile courts and social service in Oregon, and is publisher of the Portland Jewish Tribune, a weekly, and the Oregon Farmer, a monthly publication.

LIBERTY LOAF IS
BIG WHEAT SAVER

In order to accomplish two objectives—cutting down on the high cost of bread and saving the wheat for the war effort, the Golden Sheaf Bakery Company of Berkeley has evolved a new formula for bread-making. This formula was achieved only after months of research, in which flour, lightness and food value were sought with a reduced amount of all-wheat flour. The result is a loaf which is being marketed under the trade name of "Victory Loaf."

READS DISGUISE

Resorting to camouflage, two soldiers last night nearly succeeded in setting a trap with a half-bottle of whiskey from a saloon at Eighth and Broadway, but Patrolman Katz in a flank movement gathered them both into the tolls and captured the liquor. Dave Trella, with a pair of citizens' trousers covering his khaki, went into the saloon and obtained a flask of whiskey. When he emerged Private Arthur A. Higgins of the Sixty-third Infantry followed him and went into a doorway where they joined forces to attack the bottle. Just then Patrolman Katz appeared and took them both into custody. They will be turned over to the Federal authorities.

executive session to make its award. Personal inspection of the Sutter, Kearny and Market exchanges will be made by members of the commission today to get first-hand data on working conditions of the operators. Both the operators and electrical workers, it was learned, will be given substantial increases and the commission will avoid the request of the electrical workers for recognition of the operators' union by writing into their decision a commendation of organized labor with a tacit permission for the existence of the present locals and such new ones as may come to life during the war. The closed shop request by the workers the commission will not consider, and Secretary Wilson will eliminate this factor with a statement that he does not consider it a paragon issue and that the electrical workers are satisfied to work with non-union men in an open shop now and should continue to do so during the present crisis.

LOCAL RED CROSS ENLARGES WORK

More than 2000 yards of anti-septic gauze are daily being made into surgical dressings as a result of the enlargements in working capacity which has been inaugurated by the local Red Cross chapter at its headquarters. The increasing need for bandages and surgical dressings resulted in a call being sent out from the national headquarters to all chapters to increase their output capacity. As a result the Oakland chapter is turning out a large amount of work.

A request has been made by officers of the local chapter of the Red Cross that chain letters, so-called, be not used to secure aid and assistance for the Red Cross work. The officers declare that the Red Cross does not approve of the chain letter idea and asks that no one respond to such letters. Three substantial donations have been received this week by the local branch of the order for the war work which is in progress. From the Alameda Brick Masons' Association has come $150; from the Emerson School fund, $150; and from Father Lawrence of the Sacred Heart church came another $150. Many letters are being received daily from the boys at Camp Lewis for the comfort bags provided by the local chapter. On Monday evening, when a contingent of local boys left for Camp Lewis, a considerable number of such bags and other gifts were distributed at the station by Mrs. Wallace Alexander and her assistants, Miss Madeline Ross, Miss Georgia Creed and Miss Anna Barbour.

LEMONS BRING OUT THE HIDDEN BEAUTY

Make this lotion for very little cost and just see for yourself.

An attractive skin wins admiration. In social life and in business the girl or woman whose face and hands show evidence of constant care enjoys a tremendous advantage over those who do not realize the value of a healthy skin and a spotless complexion.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchar white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchar white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin.—Advertisement.

PROVISIONS AT WAR CAMPS.
The arrangements for religious services in the army cantonments and camps of the United States are being worked out by John R. Mott of New York, who is conducting the work under direction of Raymond E. Fosberg, director of the commission on training camp activities.

On Sundays all the soldiers who are members of evangelistic denominations will unite in a service in the M. C. A. buildings to be conducted by that organization.

The Roman Catholic services will be held in the Knights of Columbus building.

As it was found impractical for each evangelistic denomination to have separate services the problem was solved by a union service at the Y. M. C. A. For those whose service is radically different arrangements have been made to use the Y. M. C. A. building at some hour during the week. This provides for the Protestant Episcopal, Christian Science and other denominations not otherwise provided for.

Chairman Fosberg received a letter from Mott informing him of his readiness to arrange for Christian Science services in all the camps on Sunday.

ORPHEUM ACTS THRILL CROWDS

Stupendous!

This is the only word in the English lexicon to describe "Submarine F-7," the unparalleled spectacle that the Oakland Orpheum is presenting to astounded audiences this week. The audacity of Henry De Vries, the producer, is matched only by the perfect skill of the marine engineers and shipbuilders who made the mechanical marvel in which the play is set a reality.

"Submarine F-7." It is a task of practical shipbuilding—and, as designed by the mastermind of the producer, a play of gripping interest and astonishing in conception, that is a true sea story history in the act of vaudeville presentation of the drama.

The scene is the interior of a submarine. Through the water swirling in green and blue, the audience sees the sea and swimming things of the bottom of the sea. The audience sees the giant submarine, helpless on the coral bottom of the ocean.

The spectator sees the inside of the boat, too—for a side is cut away, inside is the most exacting and realistic men caught like rats in a trap in their steel prison at the bottom of the sea. They work together, officers and men, in a vain attempt to raise the iron fish. It is futile.

After this wonderful display of the work of the submarine, a dramatic demonstration by exact submarine apparatus—comes another display, the sinking of the souls of strong men. Here the genius of the composer caps that of the engineer. There is nothing like it on the face of the earth—it is unique. The music is a masterpiece of dramatic conception. It cannot be described. It simply must be seen.

There are three headlines on the wonderful new bill at the Oakland Orpheum—the most pretentious bill the house has ever offered this season. "The Nina Payne, queen of descriptive dance. No usual dancing act is this—she is the embodiment of a masterpiece of dramatic conception. Nina Payne is world famous, and one seeing her this week at the Orpheum can readily understand why. She is Nina Payne, the supreme.

Then there is Milo. Milo—who, what, or why, must remain a mystery until the spectacle is seen. Milo, who, what, or why, must remain a mystery until the spectacle is seen. Milo, who, what, or why, must remain a mystery until the spectacle is seen.

MILITANT CHIEF WILL SPEAK HERE
California men who have followed the recent arrests of White House pickets, including the arrest of Mrs. William Kent, will speak at a tea tendered by the local branch.

Miss Martin will arrive Thursday in San Francisco and will speak there. Friday she will speak at Kentfield, the home of Mrs. William Kent. Following her address in Oakland Saturday she will go to Fresno, where she will speak Sunday. Monday she will appear in Los Angeles and Tuesday in San Diego.

Mrs. Elmer Carlisle, chairman of the state branch of the organization, who will preside at the Oakland meeting, said Miss Martin had been induced to come to California by Mrs. Kent.

"Miss Martin was one of the original sixteen suffragists arrested for picketing the White House," said Mrs. Carlisle. "She was given a sixty-day sentence, but was pardoned by President Wilson after spending forty-eight hours in jail."

Miss Martin is a native of Nevada and it was through her efforts in that state that she was nicknamed "Little Governor Anne."

SOLDIER BENEFIT
Oakland men serving in the army and navy are to be the recipients of Thanksgiving boxes, according to plans being made by the Pacific Manufacturing Book Company. An entertainment and dance has been arranged for tomorrow night in Golden Gate Hall, Fifty-seventh street and San Pablo.

Professor P. J. Olsen, Charles Rockwell, vocalists, and several others will contribute musical numbers. Monologues and other humorous features appear on the program. The Employees' Mutual Aid Association has guaranteed an expense of giving the affair, so that the entire proceeds will buy comforts for the soldiers' and sailors' boxes.

FUNERAL IS HELD
George J. McDonough, local attorney, who committed suicide at his home Friday was buried from St. Francis de Sales church yesterday afternoon. A requiem mass was celebrated at the church, the interment being in St. Mary's cemetery.

Former business associates and friends of the dead man acted as pallbearers, among them being: Justice of the Peace Harry Puleifer, Attorney Phil M. Carey, Attorney M. F. Friedman, Thomas C. Anglin, Joseph McDonald and Joseph M. Kennedy.

MAY BAR LIQUOR
BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 12.—The most far-reaching action in the regulation of the liquor industry in Kern county is under consideration by the Kern County Council of Defense. County Clerk F. E. Smith proposed a resolution that "it is the sentiment of this council that all applications for new liquor licenses or for the renewal of those now in operation should be denied for the period of the war." Action was deferred temporarily. The resolution will come before the meeting of the San Joaquin Valley Councils of Defense at Fresno next Saturday.

Get What You Pay For

As a buyer of advertising space you have a right to know, and you should know, the truth about the circulation of the medium in which you are spending your good money. The Audit Bureau of Circulations is an organization founded for the purpose of investigating and reporting on the circulation claims of newspapers (those who will allow investigation) so that the advertiser may have full knowledge of that paper's circulation, the number of copies printed, paid for and where the said newspaper is actually distributed. In Oakland the TRIBUNE is the only Oakland paper that is a member of the A. B. C.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if Tongue Is Coated, Breath Hot or Stomach Sour.

'California Syrup of Figs' Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, flatulency, indigestion, colic, remember, a good "inside cleansing"
should always be the first treatment given.

Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," dren of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled.

Oakland Grocer Thankful

"I had been sick nearly 20 years with stomach trouble, was slowly starving to death as everything
I ate caused terrible gas and pain and my food did not digest. I was reduced to 115 pounds. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy about 4 months ago, which I did and now weigh 151 lbs and can eat anything. I am very thankful for Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Osmond's Dept.

Removes Hairy Growths Without Pain or Bothers

(Modes of Today)
It is not necessary to use a painful process to remove hairy growths, for with a little delicate, handy you can keep the skin entirely free from these beauty destroyers. To remove hair, make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water. Spread this on the hairy surface and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. To guard against disappointment, be careful to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

HAWAIIANS BUY LIBERTY BONDS

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 13.—Hawaii's total subscription to the Second Liberty Loan totaled $8,000,850, according to figures made public by the Liberty Loan committee which handled the soliciting of subscriptions throughout the islands.
Of this total $6,719,350 was subscribed by civilians and $1,271,500 by officers and enlisted men of the army. Hawaii's estimated share of the loan was placed at $2,000,000, so this quota was subscribed nearly three times over and the committee in charge expresses itself as being pleased over the excellent showing made.

The per capita subscription for the civilian population of the territory is $26.24. For the actual subscribers the per capita is $5,398.47. However, a large proportion of the aggregate was corporations, subscriptions, many of them over $100,000.

CAMP LEWIS MEN FACE BUSY TIMES

CAMP LEWIS, Nov. 13.—Major-General H. A. Greene, commanding the Ninety-first Division and senior commanding officer in charge of the camp, is to have a busy week. Already today he has been requested by the Seattle authorities to present evidence substantiating his charges that a "man high in authority" was protecting vice, and a writ of habeas corpus has been secured in the Federal court at the instance of an Idaho man who claims he is being illegally detained.

The action of the Seattle authorities follows a meeting of the city council as a result of which, by a vote of 5 to 4, it was decided to ask the federal court to issue a writ of habeas corpus for the man who was placed by soldiers to go on account of bad moral conditions. Greene has already requested that the chief of police, chief of detectives and a police inspector be removed to further revised conditions.

WITOLD UPLOD ARMY.
Councilman Thompson, author of the resolution calling upon the Camp Lewis head, declared that it was the duty of General Greene to present his information to the council if he had it.
The resolution pledges the council to the removal of A. J. Witold, commanding the One Hundred and Sixtysixth Debat Brigade Michael Kosar, a drafted man from Pocatello, Idaho, is the petitioner. He alleges that he has a dependant wife, who is an invalid, and that the exemption board refused to excuse him from military service. He demands his release under the term of the Federal draft law.

DEPORTERS ARRESTED.
Joseph Conroy, former lieutenant of the Arizona National Guard at Naco, Ariz., who deserted in November, 1916, was arrested by the military police yesterday on a charge of desertion. Efforts to be reinstated led to orders being issued from the War Department to take him into custody.

Father Jeremiah Galvin of St. Patrick's parish, Oakland, has reported for duty as chaplain to Colonel H. L.
T. Cavanaugh, commander of the Three Hundred and Sixty-third Infantry.

Harold Berlin, member of Company A, Three Hundred and Sixtythird Infantry, has been released by War Department order to permit him to finish his medical course at the Northwestern University, at the conclusion of which he has promised to enlist in the medical reserve corps.

With a hospital of a capacity of 1500 persons, most of the military are working at capacity at the present time.

The new $25,000 incinerator for consuming garbage from the camp has just been completed and officially dedicated.

GERMAN DIPLOMAT ARRESTED AS SPY

With the arrest in Alameda by United States Marshal Thomas W.
Mullhalt of Henry W. Kaufmann, former chancellor of the German German consulate in San Francisco, and his incarceration in the county jail in this city, another angle to the national spy plot and one involving numerous other persons, is believed to have developed. United States District Attorney John W. Preston admitted last night that others are involved in Kaufmann's alleged activities.

The former consular attaché was taken into custody on the technical charge of being a "dangerous alien."
The arrest was made on a presidential warrant. Several other arrests of prominent Germans in the bay district within the past few days at the instigation of secret service officers are said to be results of the same round-up. Whether or not Kaufmann is the central figure for whom government agents have been searching for some time is not known.

Kaufmann is already under fire for his alleged connection with the so-called Sacramento and Hindoo plot cases, in that he is charged with having acted as treasurer of the German government's "war fund" for supplying German warships in the Pacific with supplies, ammunition and other provisions in the plot against the British government in India. One of the counts of the indictment in the Sacramento case charges the receipt by C. D. Bunker & Co. of a German con-sulate check for $100,000, drawn in favor of H. Kaufmann.

The Hindoo plot case comes up before Federal Judge Van Fleet on November 20. Kaufmann is said to have been on two charges to live in Alameda and was arrested at his home.

DR. WING TO WAGE WAR ON DILUTED MILK

Milk dealers who make a practice of watering their product will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, it was announced today by Dr. C. C. Wing, chief milk inspector, following the conviction of S. W. Wigmore, proprietor of the Guernsey Farm Dairy, who was fined $25 by Judge J. G. Sullivan for a similar offense today. This was the minimum fine for the first conviction.

Inspectors took a can from one of Wigmore's wagons which was delivering milk to a restaurant at First and Adeline streets and the test of the contents showed 2.4 per cent of butterfat, whereas the law requires a percentage of 3.5. The testimony in the case showed that Wigmore was warned by the department last December to cease watering his milk. There are other cases pending against dairymen.

"We are going to make a cleanup of the situation," said Dr. Wing. "The public is paying enough for milk at the present time without being handed out an inferior product, and we are going to see that the patrons get what they pay for."

Make Your Own Cough Syrup and Save Money

Better than the ready-made kind. Easily prepared at home.

The finest cough syrup that money can buy, costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations, can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat troubles, colds, and really make you enthusiastic about it. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 60 cents and gives you a full pint—a family supply of the most effective, pleasant-tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens the phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed or swollen throat membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough will disappear. No more colds, better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex, with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the action of many of the vital organs is hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed. Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy, and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend some time daily in the open air; breathe deeply and get from your druggist a small box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Also follow the simple directions that come with the box.

A testing supply of oil of korein capsules, with interesting book, will be mailed free (in plain envelope) if you write to Korein Company, 4664 Arcadia, East 28th Street, New York, N. Y.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion, and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.

Woodyard Gone Means Loss Dutton Defines Labor's Duty

Mayor Davies' action in closing the municipal woodyard and his attack upon working men temporarily out of a job as hoboes, were scored by Anson E. Weeks in a talk before the officers of the City Hospital. Weeks flayed the closing of the woodyard as false economy and as a failure to understand the social value of the institution to the community. He said that the saving effected would be more than offset by the loss involved.

David C. Dutton, also a candidate for mayor in the recall election, took up the labor question last night. He defended the rights of labor, and made an appeal to union men to stand behind the government in war work.

Weeks' speech in the recall election included also a letter from the Union Construction Company to Dutton, in which the concern explains in detail the relations between officers of the concern and the city commissioners, as well as the city engineer.

IS FALSE ECONOMY.

In his attack upon the action of Mayor Davies in closing the woodyard, Weeks, who is making a precinct and neighborhood canvass, said yesterday.

"The closing of the woodyard is one of the most flagrant examples of false economy. The maintenance of the woodyard enabled men temporarily out of employment to do a little work for a bed, a bath and a meal. It kept them up and incited them to take a job if one was offered, and so was a service to the community as well as to the individual.

"What is the result of closing the yard? It has destroyed the value of an agency for social betterment, and at the same time a number of those who were doing a little work, men who were not up to the full standard of an eight-hour day of work, are being turned out of the yard, and at a greater cost to the taxpayers than when they were given beds and meals at the woodyard. We pay more taxes and get less service as a result of the woodyard being closed."

QUESTIONS OF FINANCES.

It was also at the above mentioned meeting that the question of finances was discussed. The Union Construction Company were discussed in detail at this meeting, with the result that the city attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution covering the terms and conditions of the proposed lease, and on that occasion no voice was raised in protest or in opposition to said resolution.

"Any action that may have been taken in reference to financing dredging operations for the benefit of the harbor, and obviously must have been taken contingent upon the granting of said lease, and in view of the fact that the city is not in a position to make a decision on the lease question to be made until after the time provided by law for fixing the budget has passed, the arrangement for this fund was based on sound principles and good business judgment.

"If it is not needed for this particular work it still remained in the city treasury and was worth 100 cents on the dollar to the city of Oakland.

DAVE WILL ESCAPE VOTE ON 3 ISSUES

That Mayor John L. Davies' thirty-day leave of absence has come at a "convenient time" to relieve the mayor from the necessity of recording his vote on three or more questions which would be before the city council today after reviewing the situation. As a result of having continued a vacation, Mayor Davies will be leaving to face the issue on these questions, and leaves the responsibility and the worry to his conferees in the council. The commissioners who are chafing under this condition point out that should the decision on any of these cases prove unpopular, the mayor will have established a complete alibi for himself in advance, and will be free in the recall campaign from having to face any current issue before the council.

THESE THREE ISSUES.

The three issues from which Mayor Davies' month leave of absence will excuse him from voting are:

The Union Construction Company lease on the Key Route basin.

The transfer of $25,000 from the street department appropriation for the improvement of East Fourteenth street to the harbor department, designated for the Union Construction Company lease.

The employment of C. Stuart MacMullen, known as the "tax ferret" of Alameda county, to locate county money which claims are collectible, but uncollected, by the city.

The Union Construction Company lease has become a moot question throughout the city, and a vote on it might prove embarrassing in view of the political situation.

The transfer of the funds from the East Fourteenth street appropriation to the fund for harbor dredging cannot be made without arousing the antagonism of the people of the eastern end of the city, as they have voiced their protest in public mass-meeting against being deprived of this needed improvement, which has been promised them for two years, and to which the city is committed.

In the same way the MacMullen affair offers a peculiar problem to Mayor Davies. The Taxpayers' League and others have urged that MacMullen be employed to ferret out this mysterious source of additional city income. The mayor had a falling out with MacMullen many months ago, and is not anxious to meet his wishes. But he is being urged by some of his political backers to vote for him. The leave of absence will probably solve the difficulty.

It leaves the commissioners in the position of solving these difficulties and bearing the heat of any criticism that may come," said Commissioner F. E. Morse, who is president of the city council in the absence of the mayor.

Commissioner F. E. Jackson expressed a like opinion.

WOULD PREVENT LEASE.

A suit for an injunction asking that the city be restrained from proceeding with the plan to lease a portion of the waterfront to the Union Construction Company was filed in the Superior Court today by Joseph H. King, Stanton E. Lore, J. J. McElroy and Fred B. Reed.

The complaint is practically identical with the one in the suit instituted against the original lease, and decided in favor of the city by Judge Waste. It sets up that the land is held in trust for the use of all the people and that the consummation of the lease would constitute a conversion of the property to private uses. It maintains that this would constitute a violation of Section 8, Article 1, of the Constitution of the United States, and that the city would be liable to a forfeiture of its rights to the harbor front.

It points out that the land involved is at the point of conversion of the transcontinental railroads, and that it is needed for commerce. It claims that whereas the valuation placed upon the property is $50,000 an acre, proper administration of the harbor would enable it to yield a net sum on a valuation greatly in excess of this figure.

The bids for the lease, unless the restraining order asked for is granted, will be received on November 19.

BROKEN NECK.

George Classes, 1561 Webster street, an employee of the Moore and Scott yard, was struck by a falling weight of iron late last night, was removed to Providence hospital today. The injury was pronounced a fracture of one of the vertebrae of the neck, and the life of the injured man is despaired of.

DOCK AND DECK.

With her foremast gone and slight injury to her deck houses, the steamer Schooner South Coast arrived at Hamilton's shipyard, Oakland, from Westport today, having encountered heavy seas and strong winds. Captain Jensen sailed from Oakland three days ago for Westport for a cargo of lumber, but on account of the accident returned without any cargo.

The schooner Zampa arrived here last evening from Apia with a cargo of 110 tons of copra. She was 50 days making the trip. Captain Jensen reports bad weather, having lost several sails.

The steamer Baja California, with flour and grain in her hold and lumber on deck, left Tacoma yesterday for a foreign port. She had rounded the Horn when her cargo shifted and the craft heeled over to 30 degrees. Fifty thousand feet of the deck load of flour slid over the side, and the steamer rightsed.

With her starboard propeller broken, the auxiliary schooner Annie Johnson made port last night from Kahului after a passage of 15 days. She brought 3000 bags of sugar. Captain Murray reports good weather all the way. The vessel will be laid up for a few weeks before new shaft can be made for her.

A telegram received today from Captain Lab Curtis, Marine surveyor, who was sent to Albin to solve the Steamer Pretoria, on the rocks, states that the vessel is in good condition and looking slightly. She will be towed to Oakland harbor to be placed on Hamilton's drydock for repairs. The Red Star line has the craft in tow, and should arrive here tomorrow morning.

The steamer Heave has been listed in the United States District Court for $250,000 to the owners of the Norwegian motor schooner Heave, which was rammed by the Pretoria during a dense fog on November 2. The schooner was anchored in the bay, and her anchor broke, causing damage to $25,000, for which the cable company is holding the schooner. The schooner's damage is $250,000.

Gleason Girl Admits "Acting" Basis of Motion for New Trial

That she had been "acting all along," was said to have been admitted by Miriam Gleason, 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Helen Gleason, this afternoon. Miriam's acting resulted in her mother being found guilty of smothering her baby in a dresser drawer. The girl's confession that she had falsified was made to a woman with whom she had been staying and was told the police this afternoon.

Attorneys H. E. Skinner and W. R. Geary will argue before Judge Ogden tomorrow for a new trial for Mrs. Gleason, basing their motion on the discovery of new witnesses.

The TRIBUNE yesterday located the husband of the convicted woman, who could not be found at the time of the trial. There was no return on the subpoena, and the testimony was not given to the jury.

What other new evidence the attorneys have developed they will indicate to the court in their argument, but it is understood that aside from the testimony of the husband they have found other witnesses who will offset the remarkable story told by Miriam, the 14-year-old actress daughter of Mrs. Gleason, which corroborated, convinced the jury of her mother's guilt.

In the event of a new trial it is understood that greater stress will be laid upon the probability that no murder was in fact committed and that the baby is now alive and with foster parents.

It is said that Mrs. Gleason had no fear of conviction on her daughter's unsupported story, and that she adhered to the statement she made to the police, in which she said that the baby had died and the body was disposed of by the husband. The husband denied to The TRIBUNE that he had ever made such disposal, and expressed his opinion that his wife had attempted to deceive them as to the baby's death, and that she had, in fact, deceived Miriam. He declared his belief that Miriam had conceived her story out of her active imagination.

The fact that Miriam is an actress, a born actress, as her father described her, who has had experience to qualify her as a professional, was not disclosed by her mother at the time of the trial.

GIRL NOT SATISFIED.

Whether or not she was emulating her art, was, in fact, acting while on the stand, is an interesting question that another trial would afford opportunity to determine. The discovery of her histrionic talents adds greatly to the remarkable character of the little witness.

An actress isn't the nicest thing I would like to be," said Miriam to The TRIBUNE today. "I would rather be a telegrapher. I think it would be nice to be a telegrapher, there is mystery in it, I think."

GRAND JURY HEARS JAIL TESTIMONY

According to information which District Attorney Hynes is presenting to the grand jury in connection with the investigation of alleged irregularities at the county jail, in which Charles Meyers, former bookmaker and pawnbroker, is accused of operating an underground system for the release of prisoners, Meyers went so far as to accept checks from prisoners in return for his promise of aid.

The district attorney says he has a record of a check given to Meyers by the wife of A. W. Robinson, accused with Charles Halladay of stealing calves. Payment on the check was stopped, according to the district attorney, and the check was destroyed. Robinson is said to have received a tip that Meyers was irregular.

Robinson employed Attorney Frank J. Murphy and later was placed on probation. Murphy was called before the grand jury, but he is said to have denied any knowledge of the check transaction. Murphy says that he understood from Robinson that the check was given for that purpose. Murphy says he told Robinson that if he, Murphy, was to handle the case, Robinson would have to conclude his dealings with Meyers.

Whether Meyers had associates in his dealings with prisoners, and whether there was a "ring of attorneys," a "close corporation," as the alleged combine is characterized, is being probed by the grand jury. Charles Meyers claims that there are four or five attorneys who secure most of the business from the county jail, and that there is someone who tells the prisoners whom to employ. Murphy denied that he is one of those attorneys, though he has offices with Meyers' personal attorney.

ENGINEERS NEED 200 MORE MEN TEACHING PUBLIC TO RESPECT FLAG

Two hundred men within the next two weeks are desired for enlistment in the 115th engineers, stationed at Camp Kearny, near San Diego. To the effect that Oakland may contribute its quota Master Engineer R. T. Tipton has opened recruiting offices at 1424 Broadway.

There are vacancies for 150 non-commissioned officers. Men with trades and men with technical education are desired. Among the officers of the regiment are a number of University of California graduates. It is expected that the regiment will leave for France within three months.

In their determination to bring to the attention of the public in general a proper outward respect for the flag, Oakland chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution have appointed a committee of three to visit the managers of the local theaters with a request to show slides portraying the National Flag Code. Miss Alice Flint is chairman of the small committee which includes Mrs. Bansom Beach and Miss Lily Cole. A second committee will be named by Mrs. C. K. Louderback, the local agent to call upon Superintendent of Schools Fred Hunter with a request that the short salute be used by the students.

Prof. John H. Austin, Bacteriologist and Hair Specialist of Chicago, Who is Now at Kahn's, Talks Most Interestingly About the Hair.

He says that baldness is increasing rapidly among men and points out some of the reasons. Prof. Austin is probably right in saying that about one man in every hundred ever thinks about his hair at all except to comb it two or three times a day. If it falls out he looks anxiously at the falling hair, and then promptly forgets it. Until the next time he uses the comb.

A man will give the utmost attention to his teeth, because he knows that when trouble arises he will have more trouble and probably lose his teeth if he doesn't go to a dentist promptly. But his hair doesn't ache, it just gradually dies, and when it is nearly gone and the roots are dead, he anxiously tries a dozen different remedies at once and then resigns himself to baldness.

According to Prof. Austin, there are something like sixty different conditions of the scalp and hair. Some are contagious, others develop from neglect. Practically all of them are curable in the early stages.

Prof. Austin examines the roots of your hair with a powerful microscope. He finds out just what is the trouble with YOUR HAIR, and then he tells you what to do for that trouble.

During the past three years in Los Angeles Prof. Austin has made over 30,000 free microscopic examinations of the hair and scalp.

ISOLATED CASES

Acting in co-operation with the Federal authorities the city health department under the direction of Commissioner F. F. Jackson, will establish an isolation hospital for handling all cases of contagious diseases where carriers fall under police jurisdiction for one cause or another. A conference was held today between Dr. Jackson, Dr. Kirby Smith and representatives of the Federal health department when the matter was discussed and action decided upon. An appropriation will be asked from the council to provide suitable quarters where cases can be isolated until cured. The work will be in furtherance of the campaign being waged by the government to protect enlisted men.

GETS BETTER JOB

Explaining that he has obtained a more remunerative position in the oil fields at Bakersfield, Ernest G. Sarganek, a deck hand employed on the city dredger today handed his resignation to Commissioner F. F. Morse of the public works department. Sarganek received $85 a month from the city. "The pay is too small," he said. He will receive $135 in the future he claims.

This is not the first instance of men leaving the city employ for other jobs in the same line of work elsewhere. The situation has been laid before the civil service board from time to time as an argument for raising wage scales.

LABOR MEET SPLIT OVER SPY RUMORS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 13.—The reported presence of non-union spies, secret service men and private detectives among the delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention stirred up a lively row at today's session.

Joseph D. Canton, of the International Union of Mill, Mine and Smelter Workers, offered a resolution to print and distribute copies of the proceedings of the convention to aid in bringing spies out in the open, he said.

President Samuel Gompers declared that the Burns detective agency had sent out circular letters among manufacturers, stating it had two spies on the "inside" of the convention and offering to supply confidential reports of the proceedings to employers.

It has been reported that secret service men, private detectives, and heaven knows what not, are snooping around trying to start something in this convention," said Canton.

"They are more concerned about working up a case against labor than they are about justice. For this reason I believe that the verbatim reports of the convention should be printed that the public may know just what is said and done here."

President Gompers opposed Canton's plan, because he said the "agents provocateur" would use it to stir up dissension among the delegates and make the convention appear in an unfavorable light.

"I know it is said there are spies and detectives in this convention," said Gompers. "The Burns detective agency says it has two men here as delegates to the convention. I don't know whether it is true. I hope not. I don't believe it is. But if there are 'agents provocateur' in our midst, they would simply use this plan to create situations to prejudice organized labor in the eyes of the country."

The Canton resolution was finally amended to provide that verbatim reports of the convention proceedings should be printed by speed. A vote of a majority of the delegates. It was then adopted.

VIGOROUS DENIAL.

President Wilson's appeal to labor yesterday bore its first fruit at today's session when William J. Johnson, president of the International Association of Machinists, took the floor and made a vigorous denial of reports that he was going to launch an anti-war movement. He said that he and his organization were firmly behind the administration in the conduct of the war.

After a brief session the convention adjourned for the day to give the various committees an opportunity to prepare the vast amount of work on hand for presentation to the main body.

The Building Trades Council of the American Federation of Labor today sent a message to President Wilson asking for a two hours' conference to discuss the situation at Quincy, Mass. where work is being held up on a destroyer plant by a strike involving about 1800 men. More than 8000 other workmen are indirectly affected by the trouble, it is said.

Announcement that all the strikes in the building trades section of the American Federation of Labor would affect government work in shipbuilding, munitions and other war enterprises have been called off was made today by John Donlin.

The announcement came when Donlin was asked what action had been taken in the all-night session of the executive board in relation to the shipbuilding strikes at the New York and Quincy yards.

At today's session the charter of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers was restored upon recommendation of the executive council and the organization's three delegates were seated.

NEW YORK Nov. 13.—William J. Burns, head of the Burns detective agency today explained the charge of President Samuel Gompers as follows:

"I have heard that Mr. Gompers has said that such an offer was made by our office at Pittsburgh. I have written to learn if such is the case, but do not expect a reply until Wednesday. No such action was taken by the New York office."

Pantages Offers Many Laughs Headliner Bright With Humor

You can't blame a girl for running all around the world after Jimmy Gilder this week at Pantages, for aside from all his money he bubbles over with sparkling wit and a bottle of seltzer. He generates fun like a whirl of laughing gas. Jimmy embarks on an impromptu voyage around the world to get away from Gladys Davis. But it can't be done. Gladys is there all the time.

Bright and vivacious, sparkling with clean, good humor, "Bon Voyage" is a fitting headliner to the new bill to the good hill. The piece is dressed in seven scenes far more elaborately than usually employed in vaudeville and a bevy of pretty girls wear gowns that would become a Broadway show. Each of the seven scenes represent a stop on the whirlwind voyage and afford opportunity for the travelers to get together in pleasing numbers.

The title "The Saint and the Sinner" is intended to be a bit ironical. You are supposed to recognize that in the work of the sinner and the saint there is no difference. Whether or not you subscribe to the social philosophy expounded, you will have to recognize that the piece is well done. It is characterized by completeness and the acting is up to the standard of the legitimate. Edna Earl Andrews as the wife, who is supposed to be the saint, but isn't, portrays her role with consummate skill, and Maria Miravaljak, as the girl, rises to the dramatic heights of an intense situation.

The "Cruise of the Dough-Nut" hooks a laugh with every cast; it is too funny, almost. The whole crew consists of the captain and one sailor. You think the sailor is a nut, but he isn't. But he cracks a lot of them and not chestnuts either. The chatter is so new that you have to listen to recognize it. You never working up a case against labor than they are about justice. For this reason I believe that the verbatim reports of the convention should be printed that the public may know just what is said and done here."

President Gompers opposed Canton's plan, because he said the "agents provocateur" would use it to stir up dissension among the delegates and make the convention appear in an unfavorable light.

"I know it is said there are spies and detectives in this convention," said Gompers. "The Burns detective agency says it has two men here as delegates to the convention. I don't know whether it is true. I hope not. I don't believe it is. But if there are 'agents provocateur' in our midst, they would simply use this plan to create situations to prejudice organized labor in the eyes of the country."

The Canton resolution was finally amended to provide that verbatim reports of the convention proceedings should be printed by speed. A vote of a majority of the delegates. It was then adopted.

'BLAST' IS READ AS BOMB EVIDENCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The State through Assistant District Attorney Louis Ferrari, will continue today the reading of the conspiracy evidence, most of which consists of excerpts from the "Blast," into the records of the Israel Weinberg trial, charged with conspiracy in the preparation of a day bomb case. At the conclusion of this case will be continued until tomorrow morning, when the defense will begin the presentation of its case following the probable overruling by Judge Sewall of a motion by Weinberg's counsel for a dismissal of the case on the ground that Weinberg's connection has not been made clear.

WHAT ABOUT RUSSIA?

The I. W. W. regime in St. Petersburg has already encountered opposing forces, those loyal to the Kerensky government. If only a small section of the troops stand by Kerensky and the latter displays the courage to enforce discipline, the Leninists will soon be under control, which will save Russia from one fate at least.

Such interest as the people of the allied governments may feel in the affairs of Russia must inevitably be humanitarian for the present. They cannot count on the military forces of Russia being of any assistance in the fight against the common enemy. It is our duty, however, to hope that Russia may preserve her opportunity for self-emancipation until the arch enemy of democracy is under control. And if it is possible for the Russian people to find a trustworthy group of representatives in which to place their national destinies substantial help will be forthcoming from the allies.

Several weeks ago THE TRIBUNE stated that the strongest guarantee of future world peace would be a great democracy in Asia coterminous with the empire which the democrats of Russia seized from the Czar; that it would be particularly gratifying to the people of America to see such a democracy established under the influence and with the assistance of this country. Such is still the hope of the government and the people of the United States. We shall not quarrel with Russia over names and forms nor the political groups from which it selects its governing officials. The only condition is that they be loyal to Russia and to the ideal of popular self-government. This assurance and financial and moral aid again will be extended.

But by succumbing to enemy intrigue and the machinations of criminal agents Russia has not only imperiled herself, but has embarrassed her allies. In the light of the events of the last two weeks, it is interesting to recall statements made in articles on this page five months ago over the signature of Mr. James G. Blaine. On June 10th Mr. Blaine wrote:

"So kaleidoscopic and far-reaching are the governmental and economic changes reported from day to day from that unhappy country that if Russia can ever again be counted in, in this war, the allies will be lucky if it be on their side."

Mr. Blaine also said on June 24th:

"In this war the element of surprise has played a part of first importance in every battle that has resulted in success. . . . When surprise has been attended by attack it has almost invariably been German attack."

"The demoralization that followed in the wake of the [Russian] revolution has been so great that Germany has been able to strip its eastern front of men. Presumably from a million to a million and a half men have been taken from this front. If they have, what has become of them?"

Italy and the rest of the world now knows what became of them!

Even those government leaders and military chiefs who could not discern what to expect as a result of the break-down of Russia as a military factor must now be able to read the lesson of the Italian retreat.

What will the allied nations now do? Will they permit Russia to wallow in anarchy, or will they, for the immediate and ultimate good of Russia and the allied cause, help in the restoration of order and military power on the eastern front of the enemy? A benevolent intervention will be vindicated by the future. Or will they count Russia definitely out, and play the game of the German general staff?

Certainly they should not follow the latter course, which leaves only the question as to how to go about accomplishing the first alternative.

If Japan is willing to go the extreme length in meeting her obligations as an ally in the war against the Central Powers, she must be relied upon to help on the Russian front. She has a vast army, at least 1,500,000 men fully equipped. One-third of this number on the eastern front would hold the Russian lines, put confidence and strength into the Russian soldiers and, most important of all, insure stability in the government of Russia. Then the German agents could be exterminated and the Russian people accorded the opportunity to survey their own problems and to begin their solution.

The crucial moment in which Japan's military aid can be most useful has arrived. Will the governments of the allied coalition ask her assistance in Russia and will she give it? The answers to these questions may be vital.

THE STUPID AND FALSE.

In his speech before the American Federation of Labor in Buffalo Monday, President Wilson said he was opposed, not to the feeling of the pacifists, but to their stupidity. His heart is with them, but his mind has a contempt for them. The President says he wants peace and knows how to get it—the only way. The pacifists do not know how to attain peace and care not how many suicidal attempts they make.

The President was charitable in his generalization. He doubtless referred only to the stupid pacifists—those that still may be credited with being honest at heart. But the President knows that there are others who are masquerading as pacifists who are dishonest and disloyal at heart.

These latter are engaged in anti-American agitations. They want a pro-German peace and would stab their own country in the back to attain it. The President's heart is not with these.

QUEEN LILIUOKALANI.

To many persons the death of Liliuokalani, former queen of Hawaii, will pass without notice; others, who boast of a superficial knowledge of things Hawaiian, will note it with a shrug, so to speak, and refer to her as the late Mrs. Lydia Dominis; but to a large portion of the population of the Sandwich Islands, the native Hawaiians, her death is a tragic sorrow. To the latter she was a truly royal personage, the last ruler of the native regime and of the noble stock of Kamehameha.

Liliuokalani's was the link between the old order and the new, and her love for the old order made her long life both stormy and interesting. When, in 1891, a cruiser returned to Honolulu from San Francisco flying a banner of mourning to indicate that it bore the remains of King Kalakaua, it was the signal for Queen Liliuokalani to assume the powers of government. But it was also the signal for a coterie of powerful interests, essentially foreign, to launch plans for her ultimate downfall. After a brief struggle they were successful and the legal representative of the Hawaiian governing hierarchy became a queen in name only and of many grievances.

Some historians have explained that it was Liliuokalani's reactionary ideas of absolutism that brought about her downfall, but the world now knows that affairs of the Hawaiian state were beyond her power to control. The march of democracy westward and the lure of Hawaiian riches for the foreign "business" man was too strong to be halted by any power. Liliuokalani doubtless made mistakes, but they were not such as would have been considered serious in any other circumstances and certainly were not as ludicrous as some committed by the great American government—the mission of "Paramount" Blount which President Cleveland sponsored, for example.

Queen Liliuokalani possessed a virtue that lifted her above all her probable errors and the unpropitious times. This was her great love for her own people and the intelligent manner she served them. In time she saw that royalty was out of place in Hawaii and could never be restored. If she was reconciled to this she was not to the dangers that threatened her people, the very lively peril of racial submergence in foreign stock and of cultural extermination. The last twenty years of her life was devoted to the preservation of Hawaiians in Hawaii, the forlorn hope that remained after the policy of Hawaii for the Hawaiians had to be abandoned. After she had passed the age of 70 years and until a few months before her death she worked continually on a dictionary and encyclopedia of the Hawaiian language.

Even though a princess of a group of Pacific islands, from the very insignificance of her powers, contributed only opera bouffe to the international political stage, she might still be a royal example of the virtue of love for her people and her country. Such was Queen Liliuokalani, who kept the faith of her inherited ideals and traditions, and to whom there is no successor.

It is encouraging news that comes from France to the effect that General Pershing has created a separate transportation department for the expeditionary force and placed it under the command of Major-General W. W. Atterbury, formerly operating head of the Pennsylvania railroad. The officers under General Atterbury's command are also experts in the traffic business. If General Pershing pursues the policy of putting every man to the task for which he is especially fitted and of fitting every man to the task to which he is assigned he will not be to blame if success is denied the American forces.

Nantucket belongs up near the top of the list of those communities who did their bit in the Liberty Loans. This little island on the Rhode Island coast boasts of 3000 population, but it has subscribed $111,000 to the first loan and $880,000 to the second loan, an even $1,000,000, or an average for the two loans combined of $333 for every man, woman and child on the island. In addition to this remarkable showing, Nantucket has sent 100 men into the several branches of the military service.

NOTES and COMMENT

The octogenarian of Downsville who saw an automobile last week for the first time, and remarked how it differed from the ox-team vehicle with which he crossed the plains, still may not realize how it has quickened the motions of human beings in the matter of dodging and ducking.

Professor Given says that we can save a billion a year by practicing economy in food, wearing apparel and amusements. There are and can be no statistics to this effect. The figures must have been arrived at by the run-and-jump process. Still, if nobody was ever lavish in his expenses a great many lobster palaces and high-class clothes purveyors would not make so much money.

It is a new idea—an impounding station for automobiles which are left in violation of parking laws. It would no doubt correct much carelessness. Probably there are not more careless and lachrymose people now than there used to be, but their transgressions are more injurious and reprehensible.

The unfortunate consumer is non-plussed over a situation disclosed by the plant of an apple raiser who represents that he is within seventy miles of the bay markets, and within a half-mile of a railway station, with tons of good apples for which he cannot find a buyer. The consumer is non-plussed because there is no tendency under such conditions for apples to cheapen.

A commission to investigate the relations between this country and Mexico, to the end that a better policy may exist, is something commendable. E. L. Doherty, the oil magnate, has established a fund of $100,000 to meet the expenses of such a commission, and twelve commissioners have been appointed, half of them university professors.

Hoover advises more extensive chicken eating, which suggests the story of the hungry man who declared that he had not a crust to eat, and was asked why he didn't eat pie.

The malicious injury to vacant houses has grown to such proportions that the associated real estate agents have made a standing offer of $25 for the apprehension of any who shall be found guilty of such vandalism, an action that property owners will approve, and whose edict they will assist in enforcing.

The vice-president is reported in a despatch to have told the Seattle people about the after-war problems. Such problems are perhaps going to be important when we get to them, but the problems now confronting us are sufficiently interesting to absorb all the elucidating powers that statesmen can devote to high places can exert.

Let us not forget the humane services in this war of that humble organization, the Salvation Army. It has not engaged in popular drives, but it has been on hand some fifty thousand times when wounded soldiers needed help, and is equipping for larger assistance of that nature.

If it is true that ducks are eating the rice crop there "I'll be a stronger effort than ever to amend the game laws. They have been fashioned for years with the special object of preventing the shooting of ducks. The continued effort seems to have succeeded. If now they can swarm upon rice fields in such numbers as to seriously hamper the industry.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The instrument known as the cigar cutter always found on the counter of every well-regulated cigar store has got to go, and local cigar and tobacco dealers have received notice to remove these convenient instruments from their counters or be subject to arrest for violating one of the sanitary laws.—San Luis Obispo Tribune.

Members of the County Farm Bureau yesterday conferred with school authorities to plan for the closing of the high schools to the county to enable more than 300 young men to devote their time to harvesting cotton and milo crop. Messrs. Harbison and Moore called upon County Superintendent Shibley and laid their plan before him. The farmers stated that there was a crying need for workers on the farm and that many of the boys attending high school are willing to help with the cotton and corn harvest. If the high schools were closed until the first of the year, it was suggested, the labor situation would be greatly relieved. The superintendent has the matter under consideration.—Holtville Tribune.

Of course, as Hiram Johnson so astutely points out, every one has the right to criticize the government. And pacifists have the right to hold meetings, too. But just the same, it does one good to learn that there isn't a property owner in Berkeley who will rent a hall for a pacifist meeting. Oh yes, in times of peace, possibly it is perfectly proper to clamor for the rights of the people, but it isn't really just now. Free speech is a valued right in peace times. In war times it may be so abused that even a tolerant government may not be too tender with those who misuse it.—Fresno Daily Californian.

The superstition about Friday as an unlucky day is as utterly and completely unfounded as any one of a dozen or a hundred other irrational notions that are handed down from generation to generation—and yet there are many people who prefer to start their enterprises and their journeys on some other day than Friday. The War Department should bear this in mind. There are several other perfectly good days in the week besides Friday, and for the sake of some of the foolish, superstitious ones who can't help believing that because their day is taken away on Execution Day they will never come back, we suggest that one of the other days be utilized for a change.—Santa Rosa Republic.

THE AERO CORPS

We are the venturers of the sky. Over the widespread sleepy plains Keen-eyed and watchful, we swiftly fly. Over the peaks where the snow-god reigns, Breathing the stormwinds we fearlessly rise. Facing the beams of the new-born sun. We are our army's visioning eyes. Pilots are we through battles hard won, Noting the spots where the troops detain. Platting the roads where they twist and wind. Over black marsh and flinty plain; Marking the streams where they swift descend. Tempest and calm, heat—welter and cold. Counted as one when the day is past. Wardens are we of our army bold And victors we, when the die is cast.

CLAUDIUS THAYER, Berkeley, Cal., November, 1917.

FRANCE, THE BATTLEGROUND OF CIVILIZATION.

About sixty years ago an English writer, Sir Edward Creasy, published a book which he called "The Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World." His purpose was to describe those great military events which have had the greatest influence upon human history. Each battle described, had it resulted differently, would have completely changed the course of civilization. Had Charles Martel not have won the Battle of Tours, for example, the whole of Europe, and that means also North and South America, would very likely have become Mohammedan in religion. "Perhaps" the interpretation of the Koran," says Gibbon, describing the consequences of this battle, "would now be taught in the schools of Oxford and her pulpits might demonstrate to the English people the truth of the revelation of Mahomet."

Ten of Creasy's epochal battles have been fought since the beginning of the Christian era. Four of them represent victories which were won on French soil—the Battle of Chalons, in A. D. 451, the Battle of Tours, 732, Joan of Arc's victory at Orleans, 1429, and the Battle of Vainoy, 1792. Another was a great French victory won on English soil—the Battle of Hastings in 1066. Two others—the Battle of Blenheim, in 1704, and the Battle of Waterloo in 1815—were great French defeats. It appears, therefore, that of the ten most decisive battles fought in the Christian era five were great French victories and two were French defeats. No other nation has any such military history as this. This mere record indicates the part which France has played in advancing civilization. So far as Europe is concerned the greatest event in modern history have taken place on French soil. At this time, when the democratic nations have joined hands to deliver France from the cowardly attack which Germany has made upon her, it is well to keep this fact in mind.—The World's Work for October.

LIBERTY FIRES

The fires of American patriotism are burning brightly on high mountain peaks and in the heart of the desert. Strange stories are daily coming to light, revealing how Uncle Sam's foster-children are being fused by Liberty Bonds in the melting pot of a common cause.

Not the least of these inspiring stories is told in a matter-of-fact report from Superintendent E. L. Burkhalter of the Portland division of the Southern Pacific. On the summit of the company's Tillamook branch in Oregon, where virgin mountains front the sea, and where the outside world seems a thing apart, twelve Japanese section hands, without solicitation, each subscribed for a hundred-dollar Liberty Bond. They were not much in advance of the American section hands who showed anxiety to assist in return for what America is doing for their native lands. One foreman of a bridge and building gang on the Southern Pacific's Portland division, subscribed $18,000 in cash, and a conductor came forward with $6500 in cash.

Among the employees who enrolled in the Liberty Loan army was a group of Chinese section hands who numbered among them some of the last of the original workers who helped to build the Central Pacific. They are employed in what was known as the "Forty-mile Desert," where so many of the old emigrants lost their lives.

CHANGES NOT PLANNED IN DRAFT AGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Denial that he intends to introduce in Congress next month a bill changing the present draft age limits from 21 to 18 to 41, was made by Congressman Julius Kahn, author of the selective draft act, in an interview with the United Press today.

"I have no such intention," he said. "What I intend to do is introduce a bill which, if enacted, will automatically register all men for the draft as they reach the age of 21. At least 500,000 men have become 21 years of age since June 5, when the draft register took place.

"Although I have been told by Field Marshal Joffre of the French army, that men between the ages of 18 and 25 make the best fighters, I do not believe we have reached the stage of necessity which requires the drafting of youths under 21."

Kahn will also propose a bill requiring boys between the ages of 18 and 20 to register.

"I believe we should keep a record of boys between those ages, so that the government may always know how many men will reach the age of 21 each year. But I wish to emphasize now that there is not any real danger of a shortage of law making boys under 21 eligible for military service."

FIX CAMP LISTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—With company commanders and efficiency boards preparing their recommendations for commissions, the Presidio officers' training camp, which closes in two weeks, today had the nervous atmosphere of a college campus at "exam" time.

Just when the men will learn of their success—or failure—can not be determined until a representative of the adjutant general's office brings final instructions. But the recommendations and ratings are being made up and soon the camp commanders will make the final list.

"Exemption" Not in New Forms Questions for All Registrants Five Classes for Nine Million

The word "exemption" will be almost a forgotten issue when the government's work under the new draft forms, which are on their way to local draft boards, is completed, for under the new arrangement men subject to military service will no longer be tabulated as exempt.

Of the five classes into which the population of the United States is divided for war service, the members may be "presently liable to military service," given "deferred classification" or "discharged." Men in the first class are subject to call immediately, if needed; men in the second, third and fourth classes come under the "deferred" schedule and men in the fifth class are "discharged."

Immediately upon receipt of the questionnaire, the blanks will be filled in by all of the 9,600,000 registered men who signed as eligible for military service, in the June registration. The questions are full and comprehensive. Questions as to income, last year's profit, solvency of business, capital invested and other matters are included. The searching nature of the queries will place in the government's hands, data which will make the task of segregation into the five service classes a matter of comparative simplicity.

LIABLE TO SERVICE.

All the men in the first class, single men without dependents, married men who do not support their families or are themselves supported by others, and unskilled laborers, are liable to military service immediately after the questionnaires have been filled out, and they will all be sent before class two is touched. Class five, the exempt, includes Federal and State officers, ministers and students of divinity, persons in military or naval service, aliens and alien enemies, persons morally unfit, persons wholly and permanently physically unfit, and licensed pilots. In the three classes between men are arranged in twenty-two divisions, those most valuable industrially and with the greatest number of dependents placed toward the last.

Registrants will have seven days after receiving the questionnaires to fill them out and return them to their local boards. There are plenty of penalties attached to the process, too. In the first place, the registered man, not the government, is responsible for getting the questionnaire, so must check up on his mail. Failure to perform any of the duties within the time required is a misdemeanor punishable by a year in prison. Registrants, except alien enemies, who fail to return their questionnaires in time will be put in class one, ready for service. And men who do not claim rights to be put in lower classes will also go into that one.

The questionnaire contains sixteen separate pages, and will take the average man fifteen minutes or half an hour to read and fill out, not counting the inevitable blanks he will need to have filled and sworn to.

MUST ANSWER QUESTIONS.

Every registrant must answer the questions in Series 1, General Questions. These deal chiefly with previous military training, education and occupation. He is asked if he speaks English, French or German well, must list all his occupations during the last ten years, give his criminal record if he has one, and check off on a list of eighty-seven occupations. Men who have marked themselves down as belonging to class 1 have scarcely any other filling out to do, but any man who claims exemption—or rather "deferred classification," as it is now called—must claim it, filling out at least one of the other series somewhat exhaustively.

Series 2, Physical Fitness, merely gives a man a chance to record the fact if he is blind, deaf, dumb, epileptic, paralytic, insane, has lost a limb or has a deformed one, is an inmate of a hospital or asylum or has a record of physician's treatment during the last year.

Series 3 gives legislative, executive and judicial officers a chance to file answers to three questions, one of them being when they go out of office.

Series 4 and 5 are to be answered by ministers of religion and divinity students respectively. Ministers are asked the time, place and manner in which they became ministers, the place and nature of their religious labors on June 5 (registration day) and now, and whether or not they have any additional occupation.

FILL OUT SERIES 6.

Men in the military or naval service fill out series 6.

"Are you willing to return to your native country and enter its military service?" is the question. Citizens asked of aliens in series 7, citizenship. Officials, Federal employees, pilots and marines fill out series 8 if they wish to claim deferred classification on any of these grounds.

Series 9 is for men making industrial claim and the final series, No. 12, for those making claims under agricultural occupation. Forms for supporting affidavits are given for series two series, the one for dependency claimants and the one for divinity students.

MEN GO TO CAMP.

Forty-one men left Oakland yesterday en route to Camp Lewis from Division No. 5. On Thursday night thirty men from Division No. 4 will entrain for the camp to fill out gaps in previous contingents which are already on the ground. Those who left last night include: Pietro Zampa, John McGinnis, Harry

THANKS EDICT PROCLAIMED BY GOVERNOR

A Thanksgiving proclamation in which the people of California were urged "above all" to give thanks "for the spirit which lives in the hearts of the men who are offering their lives in the service of the country" was issued today by Governor William D. Stephens.

The proclamation follows:

"The President has, by proclamation, set apart Thursday, the 29th day of November, 1917, as Thanksgiving Day, and has urged that on that day we lay aside our appointed tasks to give thanks to Almighty God for the blessings He has bestowed upon us.

"In the state of California we have a multitude of things to be thankful for. On account of a generous season our crops have been overwhelmingly bountiful. The resources of our banks are greater than ever before. That our people are blessed with such a sense of their duty to the nation is cause for the most sincere gratitude.

"Above all, however, our thanks should be given for the spirit which lives in the hearts of men who are offering their lives in the service of their country. That is the spirit which gave strength to the men of Lexington and Valley Forge and is the spirit which has built this nation into one of the great powers of the earth. We should all thank God that we as a people, in the midst of tremendous material prosperity, have not lost sight of our forefathers' fast to the ideals of our forefathers.

"Now, therefore, I do hereby declare and proclaim the said 29th day of November, 1917, a legal holiday. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of California to be affixed this 13th day of November, 1917.

(Signed)
WILLIAM D. STEPHENS,
Governor."

CHIEF SEEKS CONTROL OF GAMING DEN

Exposure of the fact that little children from three to five years of age are taken by their mothers to the public whist clubs under investigation by the police, and are made to stay there in the close halls in the service of the floor and stairs, may bring action by the city council.

Chief of Police Henry Nedderman, following a careful investigation of conditions at the Loring and California halls, Eleventh and Clay streets, today decided to take the matter up with the commissioners with a view to framing an ordinance giving the city power to regulate and supervise these clubs. The games within the law, and the police have but little control.

DETAILS OF PERMIT.

"If these clubs are forced to seek a permit from the city council, the granting of which shall be made subject to the recommendation of the chief of police, the permit should also be made revocable at the recommendation of the chief of police, of a committee composed of the chief, the commissioner of public health and safety, and some third person. The ordinance should prescribe the grounds on which the permit shall be granted, and the grounds on which it may be revoked. Among the grounds should be of good moral character, and a responsible person, that sanitary conditions at the halls should be proper, that children should not be brought into the atmosphere of gaming, and be allowed to remain for hours, and that proper moral conditions should prevail.

"Women's clubs and civic workers were aroused over the situation exposed in the investigation of the so-called whist clubs. The fact that little children were allowed to stay all afternoon and sometimes half into the night while their mothers played whist, draw poker and other games for money at the tables was the subject of indignant comment by a number of women.

EXPERTS PLAY, TOO.

A feature of the situation not before brought to light is the alleged activity of a number of expert card players who have been declared to frequent these places week after week, for the purpose of winning large sums from the women visitors.

In the report of the police investigation yesterday, the name of Mrs. H. Hirsch was given in error as conducting the whist club at California hall. It should have been Mrs. Kirch, according to the police record.

BAKERS WANT "WHEATLESS" DAY SUNDAY

Despite the refusal of Food Administrator Herbert Hoover to consider any other than Wednesday as "Wheatless Day," the bakers, who at the time the plan first was announced protested, declaring that Sunday would work less hardship on their workers, are to continue the fight.

This was indicated last night when, at the meeting of the Central Labor Council, the Joint Council of Bakers and Bakery Salesmen laid before the council a resolution, addressed to Hoover and warning him that to persist in keeping Wednesday as "Wheatless Day" would probably precipitate labor troubles in the bakeries of the United States. The Labor Council endorsed the resolution.

The trouble, according to union men, is that to enforce Wednesday as "Wheatless Day" would mean a loss of men on Tuesday, followed by another layoff Saturday, as bakeries do not sell on Sunday. This would mean a loss of a day's work, and, if no provision were made for the men to receive the difference in pay, either by a weekly wage irrespective of the days off or through overtime pay in some form, it would mean a probable strike, according to the bakers. It is agreed by all crafts that it would precipitate a serious dispute.

Not only will Oakland's "war bread" have less shortening and less sugar, but Oakland's bakers will have less burden in disposing of their products. They must keep the product moving as fast as possible—but the old system of destroying stale bread to make place for fresh which sells faster, is forbidden. "Returns" will be accepted from grocers or retailers, and close adherence to the weight restrictions must be observed.

In the meantime, the bakers are preparing to suggest a similar plan instead of the "Wheatless Tuesday." Certain employers have urged Thursday, to permit shops to remain open on Wednesday nights, Wednesday being "market day."

Other factions in the Butcher's Union hold that rather than "Wheatless days," beef be conserved by a law forbidding the killing of veal.

ARMY CORPORAL INHERITS WEALTH

William A. Hussey, a corporal in the Fort Scott Artillery Corps, is today the possessor of a fortune, after a search of three years by relatives to inform him that his grandparents had made him their heir.

Hussey, who had served in the Philippines, was located through his stepfather, Thomas Ryan, of Winona, Minn., a guest at the Hotel Oakland. Ryan, believing that Hussey might have joined the army once more, made a newspaper appeal to him to come forward and claim his inheritance.

Hussey, discharged from the army in 1913, said he liked the life and decided to re-enlist. His letters East went astray, he believes.

DON'T LET WIFE DIE OF LOCKJAW

Warn Her Against Cutting Corns Because They Can Be Lifted Out.

Women wear high heels which wobble up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority.

Corns can easily be lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called Frezzone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. You simply apply a few drops directly upon the tender, aching corn. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain.

This is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Cut this out and pin on your wife's dresser.—Advertisement.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps you fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remembering inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Advertisement.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

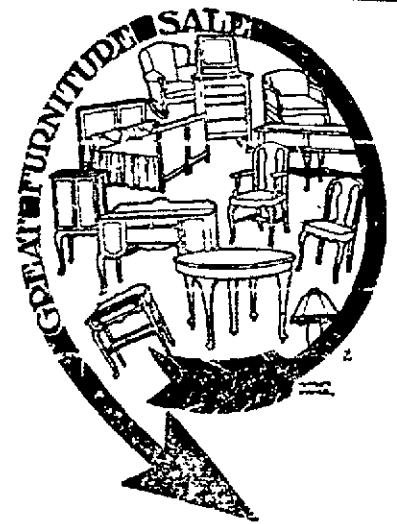

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"The Water of Eternal Youth"

The beauties of the Austrian court used often white skin and effect in keeping the face smooth and free from wrinkles, even in the aged, they named it the "water of eternal youth."

Some one recently has divulged the secret of this wonderful, though exceedingly simple, wrinkle lotion which in her gratitude she has generously donated a preserver of youth. One of the purest and most desired, dissolved in a half pint with hazel—that's all there is to it. Any woman can get these ingredients at her drug store, put them together and use the solution with entire safety. To bathe the face in the morning and evening, results, even in case of the deeper wrinkles and furrows. This is also effective for hanging cheeks and double chin.—Advertisement.

SPIRIT OF WAR CAUSES PUPILS TO PLAY "HOOKY"

There were eighty-six truancy cases in the school department during October and C. N. Shane, attendance officer, can account for it only in one way, he says in his report to the Board of Education. It is this: "The air seems to be charged with the war spirit, and certain restless children, who are full of desire, seem to feel that they can take advantage of the excitement of the times and stay away from school."

"It is not done so much in a spirit of malice as it is in a spirit of excitement and activity that seems to pervade our city life. The truancy cases have, almost invariably, been spontaneous outbursts without any long continued absences. I hope that this feeling of unrest will gradually settle down. The number of truancy cases last month were greater than usual."

MACDONOUGH HAS WINNING COMEDY

It is the essentially human quality of an "Abe and Mawruss" story placed upon the stage that calls across the footlights for laughter and tears. It is the human quality that makes us laugh with the character, and not at him, and that raises the production from farce to the realm of genuine comedy, wherein the spectator identifies himself with the protagonist. It is happy in his laments with him in his sorrows.

"Potash and Perlmutter," in Society, with Jules Jordan and Charles Lipson again in the leading roles, came to the Macdonough last night as a first-class laugh getter, and as one of the plays that will do more to make the world safe for democracy than an army. It is a play which causes the Jew and the Gentile to sit down shoulder to shoulder and realize that they are the same kind of human material, and that the things which separate them are accidental, and those that bind are basic.

The play is a sort of sequel to "Potash and Perlmutter"—or rather, it is another episode in the Montague Glass series. A clever playwright, with this group of characters as his working material, and the Glass stories as stuff for plots, could work out innumerable comedies, and all of them playable and good to see. This is because it is the character material that is important, rather than the story itself, excepting as this illuminates the interplay of character.

Through the dialogue runs that constant interplay of quick, common-sense criticism of life which gives sparkle and zest to the fun-making. It is the constant application of the acid of reality to the dreams of an imaginative race, and the quick perception of the contrast between the vision and the fact that carries this dialogue along, making it racy with life, and makes it reach with so sure an effect across the footlights. Perhaps not a third of the Jews are peculiarly and unqualifiedly Jewish. Many are the age-old husband and wife jokes. In many, if you put Jordan and Lipson in kilts, decorated them with a Scotch burr in place of a Jewish dialect, you would get the same laugh. Many are just that worldly wisdom that is part of the stock in trade of the democracy of business. They are the lighter side of urban commercialism.

The story is that of the two partners in the cloak and suit business, tired of the slow growth of their firm, wishing to expand and get rich quick, falling into the clutches of a Wall Street promoter. This is one B. Gans, a swindler and villain, who plots the theft of gold and beautiful women, and in the process of weaving an episode into a story.

separation between Abe and Mawruss, the life-long partners, friends and block-ers, leaving poor old fat Abe standing in the gutter of his living room in the Lexington avenue home, pitiful and alone, bought out by his old-time friend, with $75,000 in his bank account, nothing to do, and no one to quarrel with but his wife, against whom the time limit "never runs." He is a pathetic figure, a figure whom all the laughs have been extracted, and the acting of Jules Jordan in this scene carried the pathos of the story to the very heart of the spectators.

B. Gans also makes love to Mawruss' pretty wife, and after splitting the partnership, divides his assets. "Potash & Perlmutter, Inc." with a capital stock of $1,500,000 and B. Gans as president and $50,000 year comes crashing down, and old Potash comes to the rescue.

IN THE OLD STAND.
The story might have ended here, at the end of the three acts. But there is also a "happy ending," lacking on after two minutes. It shows Abe and Mawruss back at the old shop, starting all over again at the beginning, with only their determination, good will and experience as assets. For the outer plot, it might have been dispensed with. But for the inner story of the tremendous resiliency of the race, hence before adversity, and whipping back into line at the first opportunity, never conquered, a picture of the sterner side of this ever youthful people, the last act carries its picture and its characterization.

Racial types are cleverly depicted in the story, beginning with the lovable and merry Marks Pasinsky, portrayed in imitable style by Maurice Barrett; the wonderful Rosie Potash of Jennie Moskowitz; the incisive Rabiner of Lore Rogers. Pearl Sindelar makes a pretty and attractive Ruth Perlmutter, but fails of the realism of the quick principle in the cast. She is just a clever and pretty actress, and as such serves her purpose. After one goes to see "Potash and Perlmutter," and the splendid acting of Jordan and Lipson makes up for any shortcomings on the part of the rest. They give a memorable portrayal of characters that will live in memory.—H. L. S.

Nineteen physicians were in attendance at the clinics during the month.

MOORE ON BAIL

Alfred O. Moore, proprietor of the Homestead Garden Roadhouse, in West Albany, which was raided Sunday afternoon by Marshal John L. Glavinovich, appeared before Judge Harry W. Pulcifer in the justice court this morning and was released on $2000 bond, pending his preliminary hearing on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon next Friday afternoon. Marshal Glavinovich swore to a complaint as the result of his encounter with Moore during the raid. He claims that Moore and some other men who were gambling in the place, set upon him and beat him badly with a blackjack.

FOR CONCERT, BALL

Preparations are complete for the concert and ball to be given in the Oakland Auditorium hall room on Thursday evening for the benefit of the Sisterhood of Temple Sinai. Kori, Spanish baritone, accompanied by Mrs. Frances Ray Butler, and Isaac Seligman, the Russian pianist. Mrs. Herman Levin is chairman of the program committee. The evening will be devoted to dancing after the completion of the musical numbers.

BANS SPOILED FRUIT SHIPMENT

Two carloads of grapefruit, a total of 642 boxes, consigned to San Francisco from Isle of Pines, West Indies, have been seized by the State Commissioner of Horticulture and have been ordered removed from the State, according to advices received today from Commissioner G. H. Hecke. The report says that the fruit was infested by scab, anthracnose, dry rot and apparently melange.

In addition to the foregoing diseases the inspection showed that the fruit was the abiding place of purple scale, fig scale and psyllids, all of which would if scattered prove a source of danger to fruit trees in this State. The University of California is making tests to determine whether or not the fruit really is infested by melange.

KILLED BY TRAIN

The mangled body of a man supposed to be Fred Chapman from Buik's Sanitarium, Sonoma county, was found at Deadman's Point on the main line of the Southern Pacific at the foot of Seventh street. The identification is made by cards found in the dead man's clothes. A letter addressed to Miss Naomi Connor, 2323 California street, San Francisco, was found in the pockets. It is believed the man was killed by a train. The authorities are searching for relatives or friends to complete the identification.

Electricity—the Friend of Man, and Also the Foe of Man

WHEN harnessed up by science it is one of Nature's most valuable gifts. When it is not under control, it often spells ruin. There are few things wholly evil or wholly good. We all know dyspepsia arises from immoderate eating, but it is also unhealthful to eat too little. Over-indulgence in anything is bad. Because of this we were given the heaven-born power of reasoning; in the not-too-much of anything.

Our sovereign brew BUDWEISER has for sixty years been a beverage of sane moderation. It has untold numbers of friends in every civilized land because of its Purity, Quality, Mildness and exclusive Saazer Hop Flavor. BUDWEISER sales exceed other beers by millions of bottles.

ENGAGEMENT "ON AGAIN OFF AGAIN"

Tears and laughter prevailed at the inter-hold of the Tyler Henshaw of Vernon Heights, the day terminating in the announcement of recalled wedding invitations and the return of beautiful wedding gifts to their guests, when Miss Ida Henshaw, debutante, broke her engagement to Merrill Dow of Detroit. Dow arrived but a week ago from his home in the east to claim his bride. The engagement had been one of the most fashionable weddings of the fall at her home in this city, November 21 being the date set.

Up to the departure of the bridegroomelect last night for San Pedro, where he has gone to join the naval reserve, Miss Henshaw was unable to decide whether or not her answer should be an affirmative one. Learning of his intended departure, she sent for him, but upon Dow's arrival could not determine what she should do.

The breaking of the engagement "indefinitely" as the family have announced, came as a complete surprise even within the immediate family circle, yesterday.

"Both Miss Henshaw and Mr. Dow are very young," said a member of the Henshaw household. "They had only been engaged for a short period before his departure for the east some time ago.
Upon his return this week, Miss Henshaw decided that she did not care to be married to her fiancé. All day yesterday and until late last evening they were engaged and disengaged. We are very fond of Mr. Dow and sorry for the unfortunate incident. The excitement of the wedding and a very nervous temperament are doubtless the cause of Miss Henshaw's inability to make up her mind. Everything is uncertain. It may be that the engagement will be on before night."

Now that Dow has offered his services to his country Uncle Sam may take a hand in the matter and if plans be made for a wedding in the future these will have to wait upon governmental orders.

The breaking of the betrothal between Miss Henshaw and Merrill Dow is the third of a chain of broken engagements of which those of Miss Helen Martin and Miss Edith Wilson, the latter now the wife of Lieutenant Herbert Sydney Jones,
U. S. A., have figured prominently.

Dow is the son of Mrs. D. Morris of Oakland. He is connected with an eastern manufacturing concern, where he has been located for the past year.

Miss Henshaw has been feted extensively by friends in the east city.
Many future social engagements have had to be cancelled following this morn-ing's announcement of the cancelled wedding plans.

ORPHEUM PUZZLE

What will lady Senators wear in 2017?
Nine Payne offers the solution in her costume for "The Futuristic Freak," one of the series of original dances which she is presenting at the Orpheum this week. This creation is a strange mixture of attire of both male and female origin.

The silk hat, of course, originates with the male political leader and the female of the species, Miss Payne has conceived it with a higher, tapering crown, and as if to indicate that even one hundred years from now the halls of legislative bodies will contain their fill of Irish politicians, she has covered the crown with green silk instead of black.
The bloomers, which are a feminine adaptation of the masculine trousers, are in orange and green, whereas the short circular skirt, large at the hem and narrowing at the waistline, is given a male touch in the black and white check design. The socks, too, are in black and white, and, incidentally, these colors are all hand painted. The senatorial coat gives way to a tight fitting bodice which is sleeveless, but worn with long, black, fingerless gloves. With this outfit goes a

Berkeley Boy Wounded by Boche Bullet

Information of the wounding of a South Berkeley boy by a Boche bullet in the trenches reached this city today when advices were received from Ottawa, Canada, of the disabling of Elmer Rivers of this district while in action with the Canadian troops. The information came in the nature of a telegraphic transcript of the Canadian casualty lists. Young Rivers' address is given as South Berkeley.

Inquiry in Berkeley reveals only three families of Rivers, none of whom knows the young American. It is believed that he has relatives living in the bay district, however, and efforts are being made to find them. No details are given in the casualty list other than the fact that Rivers had been wounded.

CRANBERRIES AND TURKEYS ON RISE

Oakland will buy its Thanksgiving cranberries this year by the pound instead of the quart. They probably will cost 20 cents, at least until the last few days, when the late arrivals will sell higher. This was learned today, when the Oakland Retail Grocers' Association bought a big supply of cranberries at the present market to meet demand for the present in the organization as needed at this price.

Insuring many purchasers a better price than they would get if the merchants were forced to accept the price a few days later, as the supply is scarce and heavy rains are predicted.

Heretofore cranberries have sold at retail by the quart measure, a quart containing usually a little less than a pound. Due to market conditions this year, the closer check kept on foodstuffs by the government which measures all goods by weight, and due to the necessity of closer regulation of sales to keep the price as low as possible, the pound system will be adopted by the grocers. As the pound will be more than the usual quart measure, however, the grocers maintain that the customer will not lose by the system.

When the market first showed signs of rising the Grocers' Association, which pools its resources, buying at wholesale and giving the members the benefit of this buying power, placed an early order. The cranberries began arriving today about 40 barrels before the first shipment. Others are expected by tomorrow. They are now being sent out to the association.

COAL MEN HELD

BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 13.—Four coal operators have been arrested by government agents here on charges of conspiracy to defeat the purpose of the proclamation fixing the price of coal. The men arrested are William M. Strobel, Nick Schrapferman, Archie C. Miller and Fred Schrapferman.

The warrants charge specifically that the men conspired to charge fifteen cents a ton in excess of the prices fixed by the government.

MORE BRINGS WATERFRONT SUGGESTION DRIVE OF RED TRIANGLE IN FULL SWING

That a possible solution of Oakland's complicated waterfront problems would be the formation of a port commission, to be incorporated and vested in title to the entire city holdings, with far-reaching power, is suggested by City Attorney Paul C. Mott as the result of information gleaned during a six weeks' tour through the East and South, when he visited most of the important seaports of the nation. City Attorney Mott returned yesterday. He will compile a report to be submitted to the council at an early date.

"Get the facilities for handling shipping first and industries will come to take advantage of them."

This is the gist of a summary of the situation confronting Oakland. It is based, he says, upon the statements of officials in charge of New Orleans' successfully public-owned waterfront and warehouses, where a port commission has been formed.

"I put the question of Oakland's problem to Tiley McChesney, secretary and treasurer of the New Orleans port commission," said Mott.

"The answer was emphatically to the point that the facilities for shipping should be on hand when an industry is seeking a location. They will come when they have some advantage offered along those lines."

"Without considering the politics of the problem nor the legal phase that might develop, for I do not desire to become involved in any controversy, I will say that I believe that Oakland is going ahead on the right track."

"Our late leases are along the proper lines. They contain all of advantage that any of the leases in other cities have; in fact, they have all of the best features."

"The proposition here resolves itself into this: 'The city of Oakland does not need all of the waterfront it now has. It is unable to improve it at once. Some lands may advantageously be let for twenty-five years. The fact that it may be for a shipyard makes little difference. As to a belt line railroad, such a road on the actual front, it can be placed but not from the front to advantage. While I found no parallel situation to that in Oakland as involving its waterfront, I believe that the nearest approach is at Galveston. There the waterfront is a partner in a corporation holding the land side of the front. It is not a satisfactory arrangement, it appears. In New York and its environs leases are made for not longer than thirty years. There the waterfront was granted out in the colonial days, but the owners have only an easement on the property. Any kind of an industry may be located on the property providing that it is in conformity to the ordinary regulations."

"The New Orleans plan was the most striking that I encountered. There the port commission has absolute control. It holds title to all waterfront holdings. It is a corporation within a corporation, its relationship to the state as the board of regents of our university is related to the state."

"The waterfront and harbor is self-sustaining. When improvements are needed the commission issues its bonds on vote of the body. They are in effect a first mortgage upon the future net revenue."

"It lessens pay the same dockage and wharfage except that the holding of the commission issues its bonds on vote of the body. They are in effect a first mortgage upon the future net revenue."

"When City Attorney Mott took a leave of absence for a vacation, he did so for the benefit of his health. At the same time he was commissioned by the city council to investigate the methods in vogue in other seaports for leasing out municipally controlled waterfront lands. The council appropriated $200 to pay a portion of his expense during the trip."

This is the second day of the "drive" for Oakland's share of the $35,000,000 fund of the nation for support of the welfare work of the Y. M. C. A. in training camps and at the front, and for the fighting men of the United States, France, Russia and Italy.

Yesterday approximately 10,000 poured into headquarters and by tonight another 10,000 or better is expected.

"At noon today," the Ad Club got behind the red triangle. Every member volunteered for service after hearing the talk of Ruth Edna Bewick, Los Angeles girl, attorney, author and orator, speak on "Playing the Game." Miss Bewick won the hearts of the business men. She touched the spirit of patriotism and sacrifice.

H. C. Capwell, who spoke at yesterday's luncheon, put across these thoughts in connection with the "drive":

"You may say, 'I have bought Liberty bonds.' Bought Liberty bonds? Yes, at 4 per cent per annum. That isn't giving. That's investing in the best security in the world. Back up your Liberty bonds with something really worth while. Back up with your own sweat and blood. Don't sit in a fat job and draw a handsome salary and think you are patriotic. Say, those young fellows of America, those boys, are offering their lives. For what? For America, for you and for me, that we may continue to live in peace and comfort in the years to come. Help keep the home fires burning in their hearts. Help keep up their morale."

LARGER SUM MAY BE NEEDED.

John R. Mott, general secretary of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., in a wire to the local campaign committee from New York, says:

"The startling developments on the eastern and southern fronts within the past few days, and in light of a significant telegram just received from the prime minister of France, is clear evidence that we shall need much more than $35,000,000 and this in the national interest as well as for the sake of the allies. These recent developments have convinced our best advisers that the war will continue longer than most of them anticipated when our goal was fixed and all think it would be most desirable if we could now raise a sum sufficient to make another canvass unnecessary prior to October."

Women are taking a prominent part in the "drive"—motors, stoves, sweaters, coats, gloves of the men in khaki and navy-blue.

Active workers include Mrs. W. E. Sharon, Mrs. Charles Froding, Mrs. Henry S. Koser, Mrs. M. S. Patton, Mrs. Ben Mosbacher, Mrs. Irving H. Kahn, Miss Sylvia Salinger, Mrs. L. A. Leete, Mrs. Sidney Kahn, Mrs. P. B. Ansbacher, Mrs. Lola Clark, Mrs. J. A. Macdonald and Mrs. B. S. Sander.

At the tent in the City Hall plaza, Miss Winona Clark and Miss Mary Simpson are taking subscriptions to the war effort under the direction of Mrs. Guy Lillencrantz.

The first investor in "American manhood" who appeared at the tent was C. H. Dickie, of 132 Dracena avenue. He left a check for $10 with C. E. Bradburn, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., in charge of the enlistment desk at the tent.

Mrs. Frank Winslow Conn has volunteered to help in the speakers' bureau under the direction of Joseph N. Burroughs. Mrs. Conn is arranging for speakers at all of the various theaters, all of which have gladly proffered their houses to the cause.

Among the citizens and organizations that are investing in American manhood yesterday by subscribing to the war work fund of the Y. M. C. A., the Red Triangle service, were:

$500—George H. Collins.
$1400—Retail Dry Goods Association.
$100—Golden State Appliance Company.
$50—Mrs. H. C. Manheim, J. W. Phillips.

$40—Mrs. C. S. Smith.
$25—California Cracker Company, Mrs. C. E. Briggs, L. F. Moore, Roy Headley, T. B. Bridges, J. L. Chambers.

$20—Mrs. Minnie Miller, A. H. Trethorn, Mrs. J. H. Perline.

$10—Jessie S. Rice.
$10—Noah Adams, Mrs. H. K. Zelter, C. E. Keckey, W. Oberg, M. G. Koser, B. L. York, Mrs. Sara Lavenson, Bay Engineering Company, E. S. Hogan.

$5—L. F. Ayers, C. S. Houghton, Richard Detenham, Mrs. L. F. Lingley, C. E. Corrienn, F. H. Seeley, Mullen Auto Works, S. C. Kroncke, Charles F. Naylor, E. H. Sied.

$5—Cash from tent on Plaza.
$4.05—"Friends."
$2.50—Adele E. Wright.
$2—G. M. Arnold, A. V. Keane.

$2—G. M. Arnold, A. V. Keane.
$2—Margaret Young, Mrs. J. M. Oliver, Harold Wurtz, Goldie White, Mrs. J. F. Gumm, Mrs. E. C. Yates, "A. Friend," Mrs. James Hamilton, Varella Manheim.

50 Cents—Mrs. Walter G. Manuel.
25 Cents—Mrs. Bradwell, Lulu Morgan.
One woman secured ten pennies into the hands of the saleswoman. "It is all I can give, I wish I could give more," she said.

But the war work fund of the Y. M. C. A. accepts the small contributions in the same spirit as it does the large ones. They are all for a common cause.

Another woman who has two sons in the army and one in the navy gave a dollar. She is doing housework while her boys are away.

And so the "drive" for the Red Triangle service in Oakland is under way.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Giving his unqualified endorsement to the $35,000,000 campaign of the Y. M. C. A. for war work among the enlisted men of the army and navy, President Wilson today sent the following letter to John R. Mott, general secretary of the association in New York:

"The splendid campaign for thirty-five million dollars, which the Y. M. C. A. has inaugurated is of vital importance to the work of increasing the contentment and efficiency of our citizen army; is fundamental to making morale the basis of military success; and should receive the generous support of all our people. I bespeak for it unanimity and a unity of effort and of gifts to speed this patriotic and practical work forward to abundant and complete success."

Signed "WOODROW WILSON,"
Robert Lansing, secretary of state.
Newton D. Baker, secretary of war; Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, also added their endorsements. The drive is taking place this week all over the country.

Chinese Woman Arrested 3 Times Notorious Opium Dealer in Toils

Pong Wong, the most notorious Chinese woman opium dealer on the coast, fell into the clutches of Dr. H. B. Meader of the state board of pharmacy again last night after being acquitted by a jury in the Police Court on Thursday. This is the third time that the woman has been arrested by Meader, and up to the present Meader has scored one conviction and the woman one acquittal. Meader declares that he intends to drive the woman out of the drug-selling business if he has to invoke the aid of the federal government. Federal agents have been trying to arrest the woman, but have not been able to get a case against her.

Just as soon as the woman was acquitted last week Meader laid his plans for arresting her again. He took charge of the case with Chief Inspector Charnack, and they rented a place across the street from Pong Wong's rooms in the second story of the building on the southwest corner of Eighth and Harrison streets. Meader and Charnack spent all Sunday in the room with high power field glasses watching the operations of the woman. They also had agents posted about and in the gang of drug fiends that congregated. The result was evidence enough to warrant a raid.

Home and will endeavor to have him taken away from the woman. This child is an important factor in her selling game. The boy is bright and speaks excellent English and attends the Harrison school. After school, however, he is used by the woman to round up the opium and morphine fiends and bring them up to the woman's rooms, or he takes the drug fiends in the park nearby.

ROOMS ARE WRECKED.
The woman's rooms were wrecked by the raiding posse and everything was smashed in the effort to find the drug. There was found $500 in gold and $83 in 50-cent pieces, each 50-cent piece representing, so it is said, one sale of morphine.

Meader declares that he saw the woman drop morphine out of the window to waiting fiends, and that the day after the raid of the house away from the street was used by fiends in getting to the rooms.

A notice was found in the rooms to beware of "Dr. Meader of Twelfth street."

Meader says that he was offered $300 to settle the last case, and that when the acquittal came, after the offer of bribery had been made, that he determined to drive the woman out of business in this section at least.

HUSBAND ARRESTED.
The raid resulted in the arrest of the woman, her husband, a Chinese claiming to be a brother of the husband and the 12-year-old son of the woman by her first husband, a notorious Chinese highbinder, who was killed on Eighth street about a year ago. The three adults deposited $400 bail each, or $1200 in cash. The boy Meader sent to the Alameda County Detention

Warning to candymen in the Far West who have been cheating the government by buying more sugar than they agreed was issued today in telegrams from the Federal Food Administration to sugar refiners, who were directed to caution these men.

Some confectioners, the telegram said, had been buying the allotted 50 per cent of normal consumption from the refiners and then buying additional lots from jobbers, although in purchasing from refiners they sign a statement that their entire purchases do not exceed half their normal consumption.

"Please notify these manufacturers," the telegram said, "that in due time investigation will be made, and if it is found they have bought more than 50 per cent of their normal requirements it might be necessary for the food administration to cut them off from all supplies."

"Please circularize jobbers requesting them not to sell manufacturers who usually buy direct from refiners or beet factories, and circularize manufacturers notifying them of the position of the administration on this subject."

80 Years Old, Bathed Internally for 20 Years

Mrs. D. C. Newcomb writes Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York as follows:

"My next birthday is July 13, 1918. I am 80 years old. Have used Tyrrell's 'J. B. L. Cascade' for more than 20 years. Best and only remedy that brings relief without the use of drugs. My experience proved that it always relieves. No danger from it. My ailments were principally, Uric Acid, Biliousness, Constipation, etc."

This is by no means an exceptional letter for Dr. Tyrrell to receive, as there are now over half a million Americans using Dr. Tyrrell's "J. B. L. Cascade" with like results.

"By the scientific use of Nature's clean-scrubbing water it eliminates all poisonous waste from the lower intestine and gives Nature a chance to work unhampered."

You will be astonished at the difference in your feelings the morning after an internal bath.

The "J. B. L. Cascade" will be shown and explained to you by The Owl Drug Co., who will also give you free on request an interesting booklet by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, "Why Alan of Today is Only 50% Efficient."

Get this booklet and know just why internal bathing is so effective in the promotion of better health.—Advertisement.

DISCHARGE PROTESTED BY BOYLE

Questioning the right of Secretary Dan W. Pratt of the board of education to discharge R. J. Ratcliffe, former janitor at the Prescott school, School Director Harry L. Boyle protested the action on the ground that the board cannot delegate its powers to an employee. The matter, laid before the board at a meeting last evening, was tabled by the other directors, who maintained that the department, being now under civil service regulation, the procedure taken was within the bounds of authority. Ratcliffe appealed from his discharge to the civil service board and a decision will probably be made tonight by that body.
